PSFS

THE NIGHT HAS BEGUN . . .

ITS QUIET BROKEN BY THE CRY

OF SIREN AND MAN . . .

ITS PACE QUICKENED BY

THE URGENCY OF LIFE

AND DEATH

—and here the reality beyond the laboratory and lecture hall; here the blood and the bones threatened by injury and disease; here the hope, realistic and vain, the demand, sincere and inordinate; . . . here enters the patient.

AND THROUGH THE DOORS

COME THOSE IN NEED

OF THE HEALERS

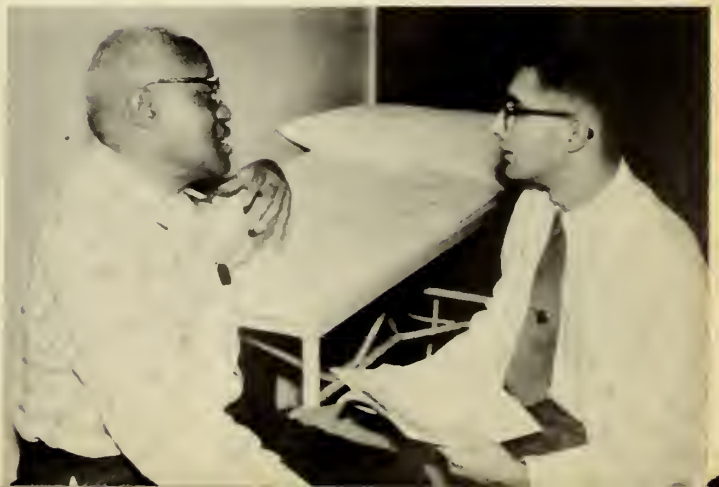
Through these doors come the halt and the blind with their burden both trivial and serious. Here come the rich and the poor alike seeking aid commensurate to their need.

Here come the mature and the old, their bodies marked by the classical emblems of the continual symbiosis with the agents of injury; here the young, baffled by this, perhaps the first dramatic violation of physical innocence . . .

Here passes a continuing procession of the ills of man; ranging from the obvious gross lesions through the more severe imbalance of the chemical milieu, to the subtle or final psychic disfunction.

HERE LIFE ENDS—BEGINS—GOES ON

. . . here the first lusty squall of the newborn herald whatever hour; and here too the final brief susurrus of life whispers and fades out, defiant of all our care; but most often, here at the center of our paraphenalia and ritual lies a problem ammenable to our talents, a lesion that can be cured or arrested, a life to be made whole again. And so with all awareness riveted to the problem before us, we bend our purpose to define its limits, inspect its condition, estimate its probable outcome and pausing but . . .



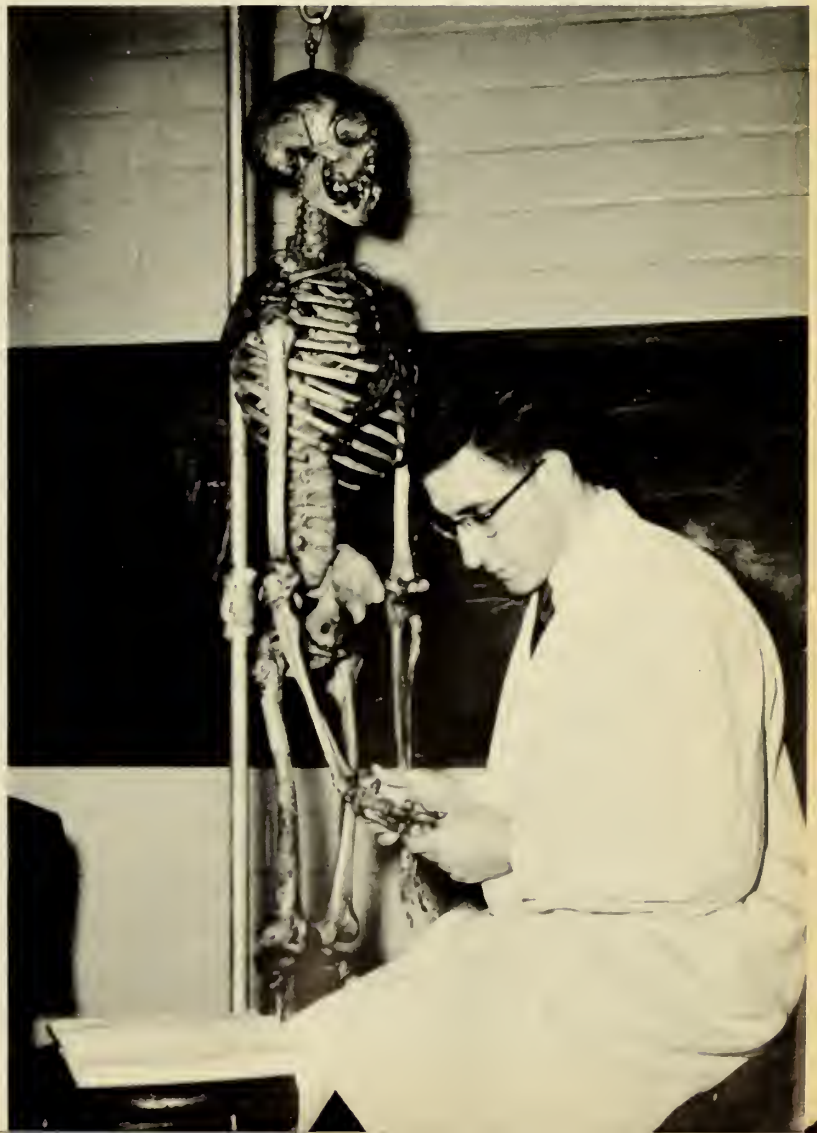
A moment, and not much more, to reflect

. . . on theories, ephemeral and perenial; to muster reliance on broad generalizations and proven procedures; and gathering confidence from years of discipline of mind and training of hand, we fit our studies to our work, basing action . . .

On knowledge gained in theory and practice

And the initial introduction to

The human anatomy



One hundred and five scholars with idealist dreams of the medical world gathered on a September day, 1952, to dedicate themselves for the next four years to a scheduled 5446 hours, 607 credit units. These were to be our statistics from which we were to be fashioned into medical doctors.

This then is the story of work, play, humor and interludes which is particular to our class and yet common to all . . . the student.

Raymond Truex, Ph.D., Head, Division of Anatomy.

Cadaver, slides, Grant's Atlas, Jamieson, Strong and Elywyn and Bailey's histology, we remember them well.

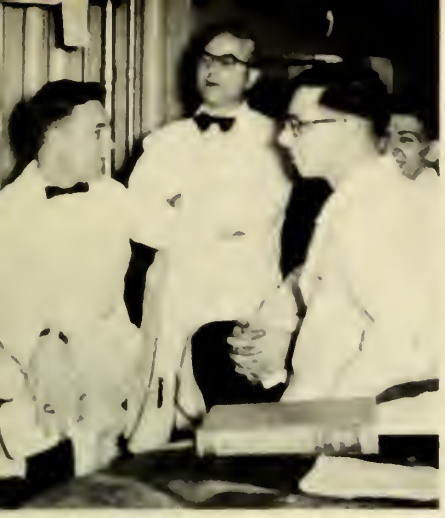
The path of the lingual nerve with its dirty swerve, that made us erudite. Most of all the dash to the bulletin board following the paralyzing hushed whisper —"The marks are up."

The 28 day menstrual cycle somehow became 34 days and "now we shall consider and appreciate epithelium." The lights come on and Blatt lies sleeping. Then there was Neuro which never did come together as predicted, "by the end of the course." Finally, our parting words in anatomy . . . "remember the Broad Sweeps."

GENTLEMEN . . .

This is a serious business

To Dr. Raymond Truex and his department is delegated the job of teaching anatomy, histology and neuroanatomy. He must make nomenclature and structure part of our thinking; to fashion a foundation on which a magnitude of seemingly diversified facts will be amassed in order that the human body be appreciated as a single functioning unit rather than isolated interossei and liver cords . . . an infinite task.



You've got a mind like a steal trap!

Dr. Myron H. Halpern
Assistant Professor of Anatomy

Dr. Warren gives out with the nuggets.

Ask any senior his most vivid memory of the Freshman year; he will reply, almost reluctantly "Paff"—Doctor George Paff, teacher (never professor) of anatomy. A personality, eccentric, idol, character, call him what you wish; he was a teacher, an educator, a friend.

To him and all our instructors in the anatomies we, as all those who have past before us, owe much more than mere gatitude. To their lot feel the task of coaxing, cajoling, threatening and oft times pleading to a group of bewildered, innocent aspiring young men to forego thoughts of brain surgery while learning the meaning of humanity via the dissecting room and microscope.

WHEN FACING

Under the enthusiastic guidance of Dr. Boyd and staff, we began to know the complexities of the Kreb cycle, intermediate enzymes, hormonal complex and protein metabolism. Drs. DeFrates, Alper, Oesper, Roth, and Wase made these long hours of study and experiments more than a mere exercise, for what we learned of theories became the facts of health and disease.

Dr. Jay Roth

Dr. Arthur Wase

John Boyd, Ph.D., Head of the Department of Biochemisry

Dr. Joseph DeFrates

Between hands of bridge and a ping-pong match we diligently attempted to extract ATP, etc., from rabbit muscles. Beforehand these same rabbits suffered our man-made hypoglycemic reactions followed by rich glucose IV.

Socially you were nothing if seen without the gallon 24 hr. specimen container. (The kind Promish broke in classroom C.)

The fairness of the exams frightened us. Something surely must be wrong! But by the end of our frsehman year we all agreed that biochem was perhaps the most relaxing and enjoyable course as yet. Although we were not masters of fluid balance or protein metabolism the Gamblegrams no longer upset our autonomic systems.

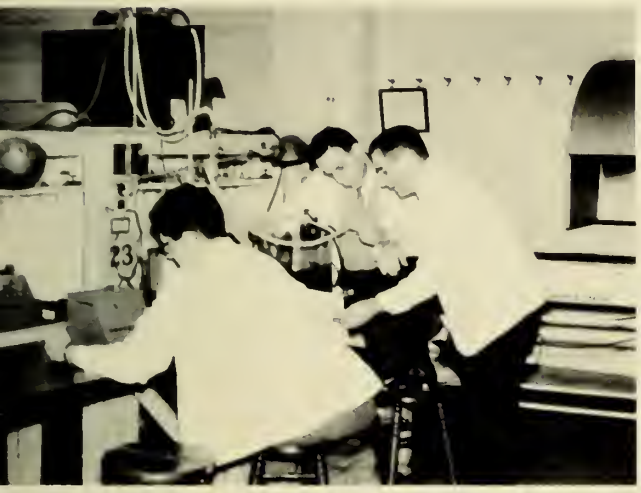
THE MANY EMERGENCIES WE DEPEND ON KNOWLEDGE GAINED HERE



Physiology, the study of normal vital processes. To this task Dr. Scott and staff alloted a series of "experiences" — The muscle twitch, heart-lung appartus, and a maze of tubes, wire and glass. For most of us the lessons learned here may someday save a life, for a few it was just tubes, wire and glass.

Amid ether fumes, saline infusions, canulas, syringes and confounded stubborn electrical contacts stands four men in white. Even the animal seems impressed for even to the last he beats, twitches and abidingly defecates for these pioneers.

Now, the minute volume of a frog . . .

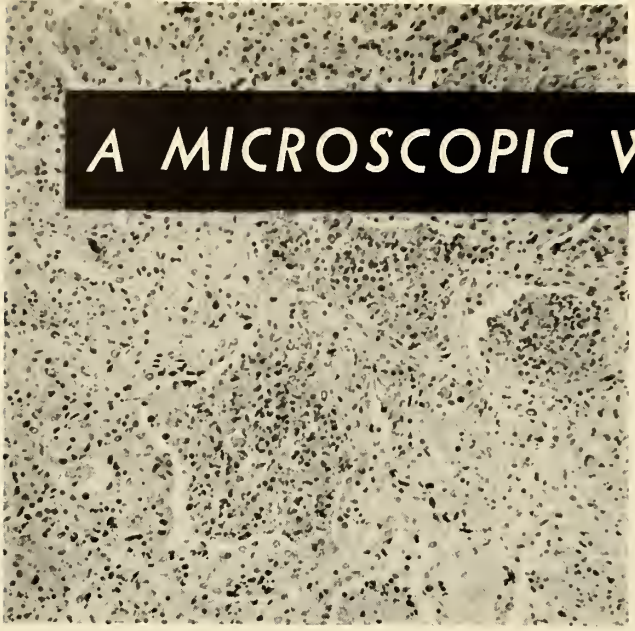
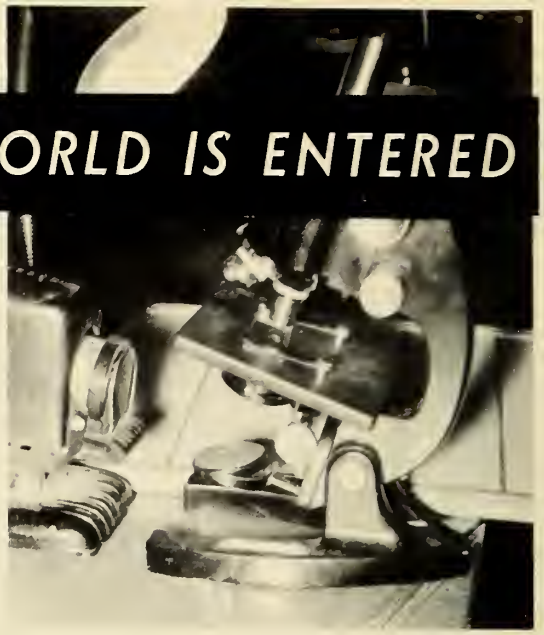
A MICROSCOPIC WORLD IS ENTERED





Don't you think the breast is a gynecological organ?

When does one learn "Medicine" is the oft heard cry of the freshman as he despairs of escaping the clutches of his mammalian patients. And, as always, the answer must be: "In pathology, my boy, in pathology." In this, the queen of the medical sciences, the aroma of death is ever mingled with the sweet perfume of discovery as the dead reveal their secrets unto those who seek to learn.

Timedly, we embarked on this great sea of learning, slowly, we became aware of the mysteries of inflammation and wondered at the unknown forces that drive cells to self-destruction in a furor of malignant growth.

The year wore on, a seemingly endless succession of exams, posts and rainbow mosaics under our 'scopes. We glimpsed tantalizing flashes of the clinical years to come, and wished violently that we were already there. Then we wouldn't have to study pathology any more! But, as we left our formal work behind, shook and grateful that it was over, we knew that it was not an ending, but a mere beginning in a study that will be life-long for all of us.

Can't you see the Psamoma bodies

You know, Moat, I do believe this is a northern contaminent.

Do you see any numbers in this blood?

In comparison with the age-old struggle of humankind with his microbial foes, our short semester's fight deems indeed insignificant. But, fight it was, a time of long nights filled with a confusion of strange names and endless genealogies of the aristocarcy of the bacterial gardens. Four hour lectures, the gentle humor of the man from the South, the collegiate sparkle of surprising Kodachromes among the teaching material, all are impressions still vivid to these many years.

Growth curves, gas formers and the story of one man's struggle against the Brucellae filled our days. From hour exam to lab exam to stool cultures and back again we rebounded down the corridor of learning, soon to take up our syringes and do battle with the tiny invaders, wherever they may be.

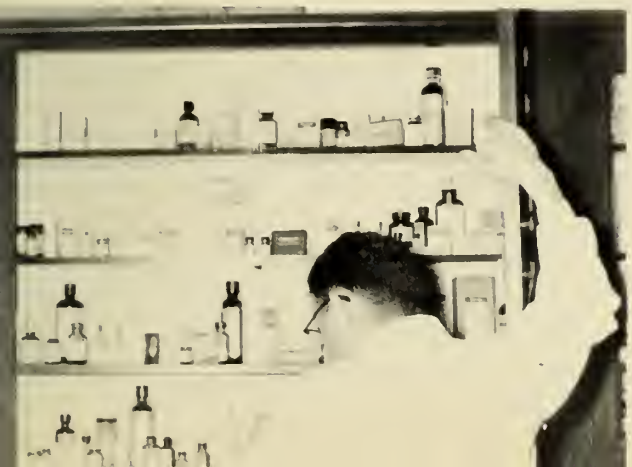
AND THE PANACEA

PHARMACOLOGY

I had to walk seven flights for this?

Did you guys forget anatomy already?

What this country needs is a good five-cent antibiotic.



Dr. Barnes and his keys to happiness.

Pharmacology bridges the gap between the preclinical and clinical years. Its illustrous staff is headed by Joe "The Pipe" DiPalma who always started his lectures "Wid a boining" interest. At times our cardiac refractory periods were shortened—especially with the quinidine—digitalis lectures and those exams (wow!). But there to console us were soft spoken Dr. Christenson and Karl Agre, always the friends of the student. The Don Juan of the hormones, Dr. Spirtes, and EEG Barnes held our attention famously—Dr. Barnes with his "keys" and Dr. Spirtes with his vitality. And as Dr. Gero stressed the SH groups of pentothal even Morphius could not sedate us and we entered the clinical years.

THEN FACE TO FACE WITH . . . PATIENTS WE HAVE ENTERED MEDICINE

Alternating spike and wave pattern at 3 per second.

Is balding a neurological problem?

Medicine is more than a body of facts and figures; it is a discipline of the mind, a fertile field for the inquisitive and original thinker. Here we strove mightily to match wits with men whose minds and senses were sharpened by long experience to keenest perception. We often stumbled and only occasionally made a lucky cerebration that proved satisfactory to our sternly impatient chiefs. The daily exercises in logic were classics wherein a diagnosis on the basis of a CC of "miseries" was the rule. Thoroughness and attention to detail were repeatedly impressed on us, when in the bustle of a hectic day, we forgot a seemingly minor fact important to the diagnosis and with reddening face realized we had goofed again.

WE BECOME FAMILIAR

Charles Thompson, M.D., Acting Head of the Division of Medicine.

Crocks, cardiacs and conferences made senior medical clinics an interesting and generous afternoonfull. Rotating swiftly through a wide range of sub-specialties, we variously found ourselves immersed in urinalysis at eight, crying the insulin blues; stalking, gun and camera in hand, down the intestinal canal; or straining stapes with a hi fi stethoscope. Four weeks on affiliation gave us welcome respite from the rigors of life in the ex-school house, and a chance to review and reflect on the experiences past and the opportunities of the years to come. We left medicine sadder but wiser, still wondering if anyone could have passed that junior final.

Plunging into a new and bewildering environment, we in our junior year, found ourselves in the aseptic citadels of surgery, spreading pathogens far and wide, and making chaos of the sacred rituals so zealously practiced by those vestal virgins of the O.R. With anthropoid cunning, we mimed our way through the first scrub, wary of straying too far from the resident whose every action was our guide. Soon, in the natural course of things, we were retracting with aplomb and snipping sutures with the best of them, taking care to never, never get in the way.

Aside from supplying horse power to the idiot sticks (retractors) we took multitudes of histories, carefully performed routine lab work under the voluble tyranny of 5th Main's Latin Cassandra, and held lively conferences with our deceptively boyish chief resident.

The trimester soon fled, leaving us with a heightened respect for the man in the mask and a fresh realization of the awesome task of those who wield the knife.

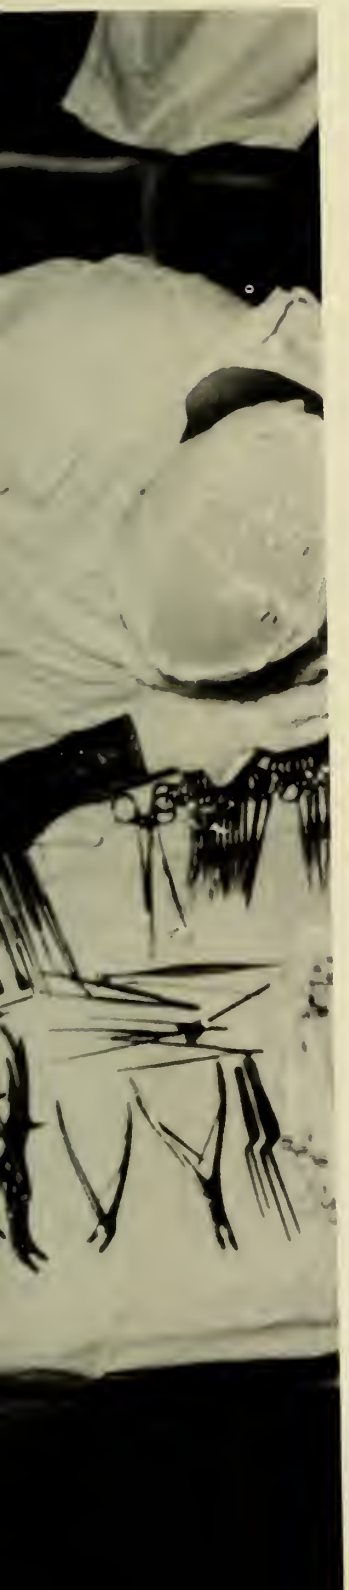
THIS NIGHT'S EMERGENCIES



Ted, how many times have I told you to stay away from the prostate.

Axel Olsen, M.D., Head of the Department of Neurosurgery.

Paul, are you sure all the seniors were in accident ward this past week?

Again a new year and surgery became a matter of minor procedures of major import. A week spent in Emergency ward gave us a chance to turn our hand at embroidery and afforded a panoramic view of life in the raw, proving to all that the best of friends wield a mean razor.

Clinics were busy; varied with all the little problems that beset the practitioner: bandages refused to stay neat, abscesses formed despite the 600,000 units of penicillin, and sore toes stayed sore, hot soaks not withstanding. Unna's paste boot was fashionable footwear and gauze turbans marked those whose Saturday night was more wild than wise. Lipomas vanished and cysts relinquished themselves to our ready knives, as with waxing knowledge we were allowed to do a little more than observe.

Rotation through the surgical subspecialties gave us, at one time or another, fleeting glimpses of pathology at the ends of the GI tract, an opportunity to exercise a massaging forefinger, and an idea of how to build new faces from old. The eyes had it on opthalomology and the ears on E.N.T. A week at Hamburg taught us that M. tuberculosis is still very much with us and deserving of our profound respect.

A month at one or the other of Hahnemann's surgical affiliates rounded out the trimester, while we indulged in an orgy of plagerism preparing scholarly tomes on one obscure subject or another. So we came to the end of our undergraduate training in surgery; some to go on to a career of scalpeling, others to ever more supply the traction.

Dramatic, exacting, the skilled talents of Dr. Bailey and his associates have drawn people from all over the world to our gates, each seeking a return of the life which disease or capricious fate has deprived him. The eighth floor is the baliwick of these master craftsmen and we, as third year students, were permitted to enter the inner sanctum to watch and sometimes to scrub in as they got to the heart of the matter. All sons of Hahnemann past and future owe a debt of gratitude to these daring pioneers who have brought such universal notice to our alma mater.

ORTHOPEDIC SURGERY

Bodies encased in molluskoid sheaths of plaster or trans-fixed on frames mildly reminiscent of a medieval torture chamber are all a part of the practice of orthopedics. On rounds, the pedagogery was often caustic, always effective and accompanied by the soft scrape of a penknife and a whistled obligatto. To our surprise and pleasure we found that college physics was not a complete waste and patience is often rewarded with a crooked limb made straight and a broken body made whole.

Oh, doctor, don't crush me!!

It's 4:00 A.M. Sunday and the lab work has been completed on Paula Primigravida. The fetascope is placed on the patient's abdomen and a spine tingling A-h-h-h is uttered. Had she delivered? Behind him stood Penman M.D. the "Temple Flash," bow-tie et al.

The following A.M. MacFayden M.D. enters and asks, "How are you going to make the diagnosis?"

The stammering junior replies, "Careful history, PE and pelvic examination, appropriate lab tests, x-ray and endocrine studies, biological tests for pregnancy, especially if she's in the child bearing age."

Smiling reply, "Yes, yes, go on."

5:00 P.M. Monday and still no baby. But now in the delivery room, Paxson, M.D., the great fox hunter and president of the "bank" enters rubbing his lapels, "Of what must we be suspicious?"

"Afibrinogenemia, Doctor, afibrinogenemia!"

Reishstein, M.D.: "Be prompt at lectures, doctor. I come two minutes early and if you can't get there by 8:30, don't come."

Seitchik, M.D.: "I still think small ears are the best." (even when they have pedals?).

Hunter, M.D.: "Son, here are some seeds to be planted —(1) an empty uterus does not bleed (2) no pregnant woman ever bleeds normally (3) good girls bleed, bad girls don't bleed."

Pontarelli, M.D.: "Take it easy, doctor. Everything's going to be all right."

And so it was—

Drs. Greenspan, Rosenberg, Downing, Brelian, Fischer, Viek, Gregg, Valerio, and Hubsher.

Assorted sounds and smells, dampened ties and grim determination are the pediatrician's lot; one which we were privileged to share for a short while during the third and fourth years. Fumbling bachelors gazed with admiration as their more experienced colleagues changed didies, computed formulas and soothed fretful infants with the finesse that comes of paternity. St. Lukes, P.G.H., Fife Hammell, Mt. Sinai, Sayre and Harrisburg supplemented the teaching program with widely varying results. Sleep, that knits up the ravelled sleeve of care, is ably provided by a large staff of anesthesiology. A serics of lectures in the junior year proved their proficiency, and the pop quizzcs were as effectual as Nalline in the reversal of narcosis. A week spent with thesc medical sandmen permitted us a glimpse of their problems and a chance, perhaps, to take a blood pressure.

Our formal X-ray training consisted of a series of lectures scattered throughout the first, second and third years. These early morning sessions were gratefully received by those members of the class in need of dim restfulness. What young medic, alone in the long watches of a night on Emergency call, can help but reminisce fondly on the many and varied educational experiences he has survived; intermitable lectures on bureaucracy in all its many splendored forms, bus trips to see City Hall and the Cadillacs down along the Delaware, tales of detecting Salmonella typhosa in the sticky buns, and many, many more. Nostalgic memories of the delightful walking tours of the park-like streets of South Philadelphia with the V.N.S., and total recall of some of the more important facts and figures concerning the happy union of democratic government and autocratic medicine must stimulate his cortex to the point of endurance.

And these are the park-like streets . . .

PUBLIC HEALTH

AFFILIATIONS

During our junior and senior years we ventured from Hamlet to city hospital to gain and give of our knowledge. Nevertheless we returned after our sojourn far wiser in the practical matters of men, medicine, and medicaments and realized that as seniors we really knew something. To most of us it was enjoyable to match wits in skirmishes with students from other schools at PGH and Veterans Hospitals. But alas, the poor married seniors who had to trade Sayre for the home-like atmosphere of PGH.

BUT OUR GOAL IS IN SIGHT

PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS

Harold A. Taggart, formerly assistant Dean, presently acting Dean. Having received his M.D. in 1919 from Hahnemann, he returned to teach in 1921. During those hectic days that are medical education, Doctor Taggart has been our liaison to those seemingly untouchables that are a medical faculty. He has taken our important and trifling problems to his own, and tirelessly tries to blend many personalities into a Hahnemann family.

Pays Tribute to . . .

To the Members of the Class of 1956:

Four years ago it was announced that you were a chosen few selected from a group of applicants numbering somewhere between twelve and thirteen hundred young student aspirants to a medical career. You headed into medical school because of a variety of motives which might be described as a mixture of interest in human biology, a desire to heal the sick and a special idealism containing quanta of religious fervors, Oslerian ideals and a missionary zeal.

We, through our associations and close relationships during the succeeding four years, have watched with keen interest and concern your progress from day to day, and month to month, as you metamorphosed from students of science into student-physicians, in your quest for the solution satisfactory to your zeal and ideals.

You have learned, among many things, that the study of medicine is an educational process not only of scientific facts alone; but also of the art of human understanding and a tolerance in your relationships with people as well.

As you are now about to graduate, you are ready to embark upon the third great episode in your educational experience, namely that of becoming a physician-student. For you will never lose the "student" label throughout your entire professional life if you desire to grow in stature as a healer of the sick. Also, your deep concern for human welfare leads those of us at the medical school to hope that you will manifest a sense of responsibility and interest in the community in which you may settle—in brief, that you become good citizens as well as competent physicians.

But, in turn, you have a right to assume that the college which grants you the M.D. degree shall continue to manifest a continuing interest in your educational and social welfare. Hahnemann is your Alma Mater and the root meaning of the Latin Alma is "to feed, nourish, sustain or revive." All of these meanings imply the concept "to help," and that is exactly what we hope we may have the privilege of doing for you in years to come. This means to us the opportunity to offer you information about your contemporaries, aid in planning your further training, help in finding locations to practice and a responsibility in providing continuing education through a well-organized and integrated program of post-graduate exercises.

In the development of your career; in the maturing of your ambitions and desires, Hahnemann, in turn, hopes that you will maintain your interests and loyalties to your fellow classmates and to the Institution which has nurtured you during the apprenticeship period of your professional life. While familiar faces and personalities may change, the college, with its ideals, vision and hopes for a consistent betterment of the functions for which it strives, will not falter in its growth. And you, as the sons and daughters of Hahnemann will help to keep it that way.

We salute all of you; and wish for you every success and happiness in life.

HAROLD A. TAGGART

Bruce V. MacFadyen, M.D.

THE CLASS OF '56

Honors . . .

For the past four years all of us have come in contact with both the clinical and non-clinical instructors. But in looking back if we were asked to identify a conscientious, devoted, and energetic teacher, the class of '56 would reply Bruce Vischer MacFadyen. Our first contact with him was in the orientation lectures of our sophomore year. During the junior year we were impressed with his infinite patience as he stressed upon us the importance of endometriosis, PID and ovarian tumors. The conferences in the 7th floor classroom and the quizzes at the OR tables climaxed our third year Gyn training. For those who stayed in Philadelphia for the senior clinical Gyn affiliation the four "P's" of a retrodisplacement were again re-emphasized and all were asked for the fifth "P".

Dr. MacFadyen himself is a graduate of Hahnemann Medical College '28. After an internship at Shadyside Hospital in Pittsburgh he returned to Philadelphia and the Graduate School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania from which he received the degree of Master of Medical Science in Gyn-Obs. Having served as the first resident in Obs-Gyn at Hahnemann he became a member of the Department of Gynecology in 1932 and then Head of the Department in 1946.

And so the class of 1956 proudly dedicates this book to Dr. Bruce V. MacFadyen whose sincere desire to teach and share his knowledge with others will never be forgotten.

Doctor Brown came to Hahnemann following a teaching career which has gained him a reputation as an organizer, leader, and teacher of physicians. He received his B.S. in 1919 and M.D. in 1921 from the University of Oklahoma. For some men this would be sufficient, but compelled to construct better that which he criticized, he set out to further his medical knowledge by training at Harvard. Subsequently in 1946 a new Dean came to Hahnemann. Never satisfied with second best, he strove vigoronsly to educate students into doctors; to digest infinite medical facts into a curriculum which left no student graduate in ignorance. Doctor Brown left us in June, 1955. His absence has given us the knowledge that brilliance alone is not enough; initiative and desire, alone will fail; it is the culmination of all these qualities and in addition courage which we must seek in replacing this man.

Charles L. Brown, B.S., M.D.

MADISON B. BROWN, M.D.

Trustee of the American Hospital Association, member of the Advisory Board of the Hospital Council of Philadelphia, and member of the Board of Directors of the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia are but a few interests which Dr. Madison Brown is following presently. Since it would be impossible to list all of his many activities, positions and papers suffice it to say that he is highly qualified to lead us in the complexities of hospital statesmanship. Because his activities are so much behind the scenes we are unable, in our daily routine of labs, wards and clinics, to have close contact with Dr. Brown. However, his devotion to his work has been self evident in the continuing progress Hahnemann Hospital has made since his arrival. It is most fitting that far removed from the drama of the accident ward there is a capable leader to make possible the realities of a modern hospital.

In Memoriam

The Class of '56 pauses, in this time of farewells, to honor the memory of one of its first and finest teachers, Dr. Armand W. Angulo, Professor of Anatomy. So suddenly deprived, the halls of Alma Mater will long echo the soft Latin accents of his voice and be lighted by the spirit of his gentle humor and keen scholarship. Dedicated to the pursuit of truth, devoted to "his boys," he made the transition to medical school smoother for hundreds of new medics. His life and work will remain a vital force among us for years to come, as the many careers he so skillfully launched ripen to full maturity. His monument is the eternal gratitude of his school, his students and his profession; his resting place is in the hearts of those who knew and loved him well.

THE OATH

I SWEAR by Apollo the physician and Æsculapius & Health & All-heal & all the gods & goddesses that according to my ability & judgement

I WILL KEEP THIS OATH

& this stipulation to reckon him who taught me this Art equally dear to me as my parents to share my substance with him & relieve his necessities if required, to look upon his offspring in the same footing as my own brothers & to teach them this Art if they shall wish to learn it,

WITHOUT FEE OR STIPULATION

& that by precept lecture & every other mode of instruction I will impart a knowledge of the Art to my own sons & those of my teachers & to disciples bound by a stipulation & oath

ACCORDING TO THE LAW OF MEDICINE

but to none others. I will follow the system of regimen which according to my ability & judgement I consider

FOR THE BENEFIT OF MY PATIENTS

& abstain from whatever is deleterious & mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to any one if asked nor suggest any such counsel & in like manner I will not give to a woman a pessary to produce abortion.

WITH PURITY & WITH HOLINESS I WILL PASS MY LIFE & PRACTICE MY ART

I will not cut persons laboring under the stone, but will leave this to be done by men who are practitioners of this work. Into whatever houses I enter, I will go into them for the benefit of the sick & will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief & corruption; & FURTHER from the seduction of females or males, of freemen & slaves. Whatever in connection with my professional practice or not in connection with it, I see or hear in the life of men which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I WILL NOT DIVULGE as reckoning that all such should be kept secret. While I continue to keep this Oath unviolated, may it be granted to me to enjoy life & the practice of the Art respected by all men in all times! But should I trespass & violate this Oath, may the reverse be my lot!

ΙΠΠΟΚΡΑΤΕΣ

This talkative fellow came to Hahnemann from Dickinson and Gettysburg Colleges with a B.S. degree from the former, earned in three years. During his freshman year in anatomy lab "King Farouk" became fast friends with Dr. Chunn. After becoming treasurer of Phi Beta Pi fraternity, he then attained position of president. He is a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the interfraternity council, and served junior internships at the Community Hospital of Philadelphia and at the Memorial Hospital of Pottstown, Pa. Ali is a native of Berwick, Pa. and is unmarried.

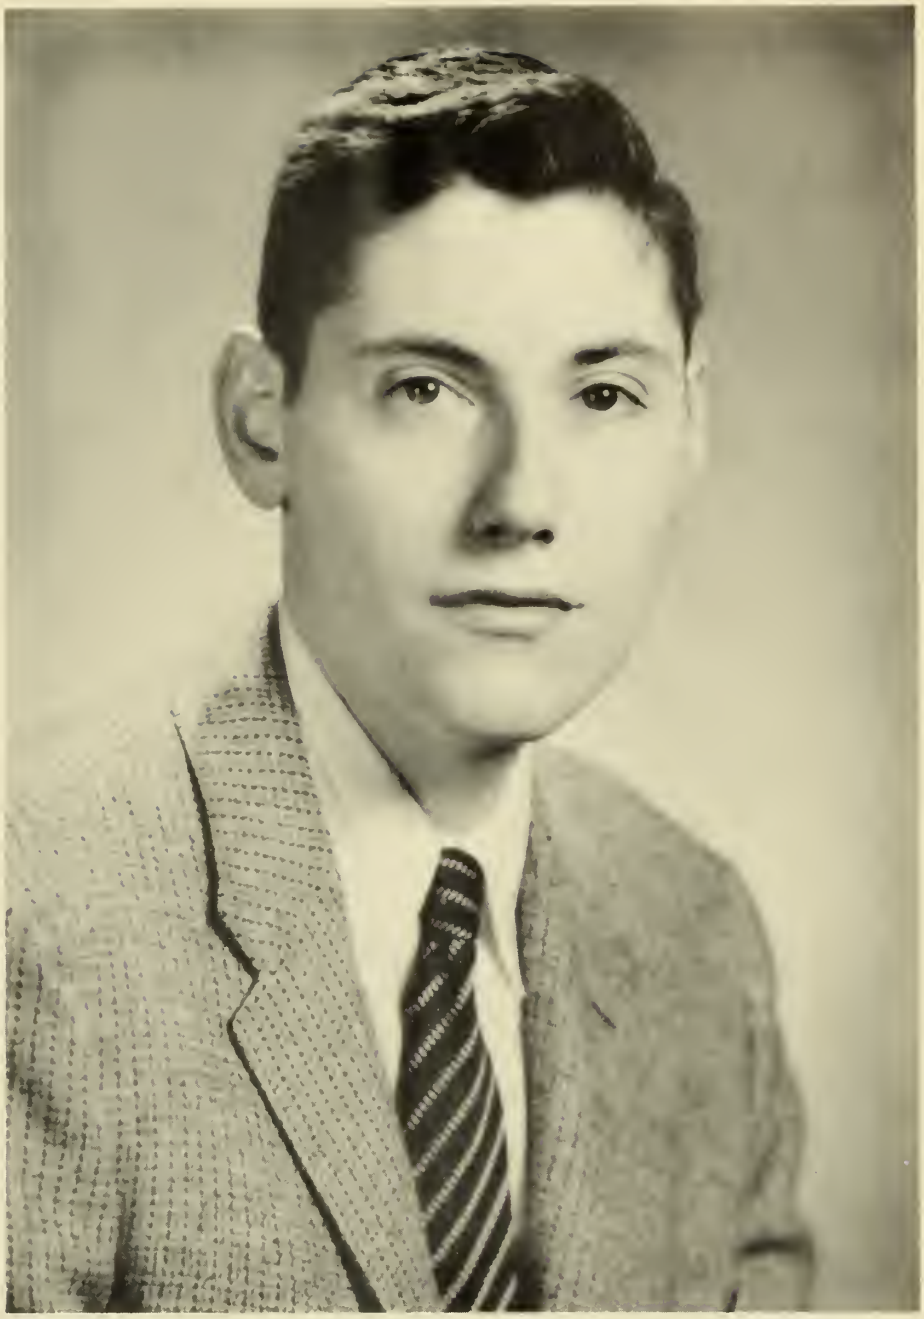
Internship:
MEDICAL COLLEGE OF VIRGINIA
Richmond, Va.

Ali Abbas Alley

Joe hails from California, Pa. and attended the University of Pittsburgh. He participated in the undergraduate research program and is a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society. Joe served a junior internship at the Lower Bucks County Hospital, and was also a member of the Phi Delta Epsilon Fraternity. Members of Joe's group will not forget his ability in hitting the anticubital veins in biochemistry. He and wife, Beverly, were blessed during his senior year with the birth of their daughter, Shauna Elyse.

Internship:
ALBERT EINSTEIN MEDICAL CENTER, SOUTHERN DIVISION
Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph Leo Azorsky



Walter E. Badenhausen, Jr.

Walt, a member of Phi Chi fraternity, the '55-'56 Medic Staff and the Mac-Fadyen Gyn. Society, is a graduate of Hamilton College, N. Y. where he majored in English literature and biology. One of the tallest men in the class, Walt will be most remembered for his pleasant manners, conservative dress and his knowledge in fields other than medicine. Having served a junior internship at Staten Island Hospital Walt also found time to visit Europe on two occasions. His plans for the future include his venerable pipe, a trip around the world and a specialty in internal medicine.

Internship:
LENOX HILL HOSPITAL
New York City, N. Y.

Leonard Earl Berk

A native of Pittsburgh, Len came to Hahnemann via Johns Hopkins University. Although an ardent Pirate and Steeler fan, Lenny was not always on the losing side as those who played basketball with him at the "Y" can attest. While at Hahnemann he served as a laboratory technician and held a junior internship at Coatesville Hospital. Socially Len was a member of Phi Beta Pi fraternity and plans to marry Carol Hawk of the Hahnemann nursing staff in June. Plans for the future are for a general practice in the Pittsburgh area.

Internship:
WESTERN ASSOCIATION HOSPITAL
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Frank attended Harpur College of New York after growing up in Walnutport, Pa. which according to Frank is where the Main Line of Philadelphia begins . . . and ends. Frank is a member of the Newman Club, the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the Aesculapian Society, A.O.A., and the Phi Chi Fraternity. He served a junior internship at Stetson Hospital and, while not pursuing these activities, he was always good for a dart game and a bit of subtle wit.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Franklin Stanley Bizousky

Mark is a hometown boy from Philadelphia who attended the University of Pa., and married a hometown girl. In spite of four years of narcolepsy, he managed to get through all of his courses. He participated in surgical research, was a member of the Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity and was also elected to AOA. Although primarily concerned with furthering his medical education, no small amount of time was spent in worrying about that universal disease, progressive alopecia.

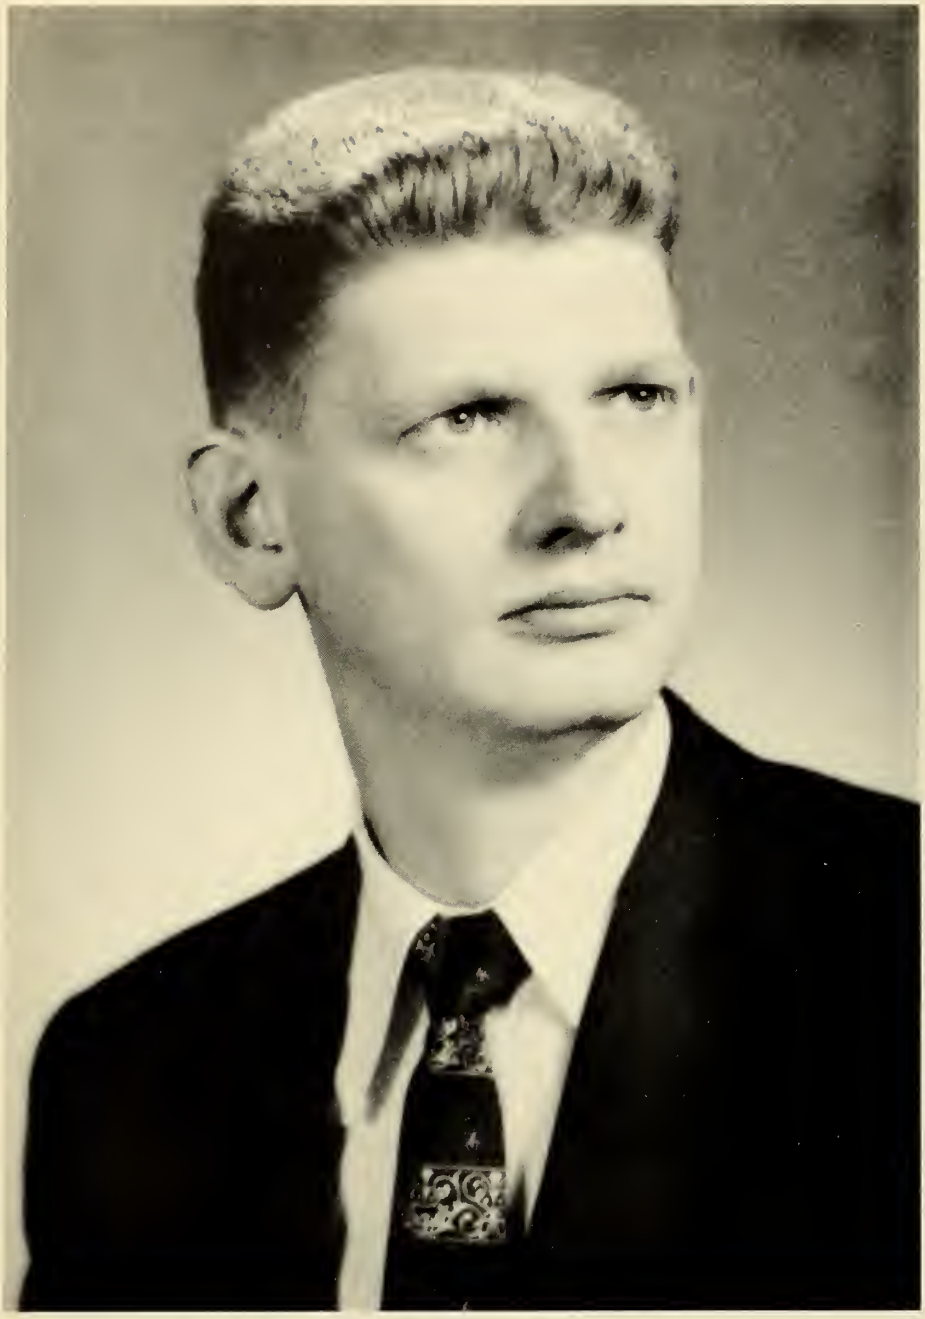
Internship:
UNITED STATES NAVAL HOSPITAL
Bethesda, Md.

Mark Avrum Blatt

Andrew D. Chigos, Jr.

Andy intends to be a G.P. when the Air Force is through with his services. He comes from Wilkes-Barre, Pa. and attended Wesleyan College of West Virginia, where he met his wife, Betty. After working for the Pepsi Cola Company for the past three summers, he is now so strong that he can lick his weight in bottle caps. A dedicated family man and the father of two children, Andy would like nothing more than to set up practice in a small community.

Internship:
ST. LUKES HOSPITAL
Bethlehem, Pa.



Leon Harold Dantzig

Leon hails from Levittown, Pa. and is a devoted husband to his wife, Ceeile. While at Hahnemann he found enough time to join Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and have a daughter, Tara Lynn. Pre-med studies were at Champlain College where he must have been considered an eskimo in good standing having spent four years in this northern outpost. It has been rumored that Leon spent two-thirds of his time commuting but always managed to make class by 8:33 A. M.

Internship:
ST. AGNES HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

"Terrible" Ted comes from Wilkinsburg, Pa. and took his pre-med at the University of Pittsburgh. He is a member of the Phi Beta Pi Fraternity in which he served as historian, social chairman, rushing chairman, and finally president in his senior year. At school he was a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the Newman Club, the Student Institute, and president of the senior class. He held a lab. internship at the Lower Bucks County Hospital and a junior internship at West Chester Memorial Hospital. He is married and plans to go into general practice or take a surgical residency.

Internship:
WEST JERSEY HOSPITAL
Camden, N. J.

Theodore John DeConna

Wherever there is beer to be had John will not be far away. This hard working AKK is a native Philadelphian whose presence graced the Newman Club, the Aesculapian Club, and the MacFadyen Gyn. Society. John attended LaSalle College and worked as a lab intern at Hahnemann during his junior year at which time he endeared himself to the night nurses on pediatrics with his soft and sugary phrases. John was the only senior able to do a good history and physical, CBC, and still visit Browns in the same half hour.

Internship:
ST. AGNES HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

John Joseph Dennehy

Earl Patrick Detrick

Earl attended Juniata College after being raised in Wyoming, Pa. He is single (to no fault of his own) and is a member of the Phi Beta Pi Fraternity, the Newman Club, the Aesculapian Society, the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, and numerous other extra-curricular activities. Earl held a junior internship at Doctors Hospital during his junior and senior years but found enough time to entertain and be entertained by the girls in white as well as being a companion to John Dennehy. His fellow group members will remember his ability to manipulate John Scott's kymographs.

Internship:
ST. AGNES HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Garrett Edwin Donnell

Gary is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity, the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, and has worked on the 1955 and 1956 Medic. He calls Cochranton, Pa. home, and attended Bucknell University. Gary is a gay, carefree extrovert who always has a smile for his classmates, and a kiss for their wives. There's a certain characteristic about Gary which enables him to have an answer for most any question, even the location of his home town. Long range plans are for a wife, home cooked meals and a large family.

Internship:
HAMOT HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION
Erie, Pa.

"Jads," the leanest football player from Lafayette College, came to Hahnemann after three years of pre-med. He and his wife, Ruth, were blessed with a daughter at the beginning of his senior year. Jack served as Vice-President of his Sophomore class and intends to go into general practice. On rare (?) occasions in physiology lab he had been heard to remark in awed tones, "Oh, gee!!! What's it gonna be?" Although only known to his closest friends, he holds the distinction along with Charlie Wilkins of owning a roaring "Twenties" automobile, a 1928 Packard.

Internship:
BRYN MAWR HOSPITAL
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

John Anderson Dotterer

Pete, whose ready and natural wit and infectious grin has been noted at the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and the Aesculapian Society, has served as representative of the Student Institute and is a member of the Medic Staff and Phi Chi Fraternity. His home is in Chicago and he attended the University of Illinois where he earned a B.S. and M.S. degree. It will always be remembered that if Pete has it in his notes, it is important, but who can read it? Future plans include a residency in internal medicine.

Internship:
PRESBYTERIAN HOSPITAL
Chicago, Ill.

Peter George Economou

George Geoffrey Flamm

George spent more time in the Bacteriology lab than at Herms playing the pinball machine. He married Pat, but the pinball machine got away. George is a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the Medic staff, and the Phi Beta Pi Fraternity. During his junior year he was a lab intern at Hahnemann and held a junior internship at the Coatesville Hospital during his senior year. He took his pre-med at the University of Delaware and comes from Felton, Delaware. His plans include general practice and a large family.

Internship:
WESTERN ASSOCIATION HOSPITAL
Pittsburgh, Pa.

William Henry Forrest, Jr.

"Dad" is a native Philadelphian who took his pre-med at Penn State, and is married to Joanny F. whose friendly personality won many friends. At Hahnemann he has been active in numerous class affairs, is a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the Aesulapian Society, and a member of the Medic staff. Bill is President of the Phi Chi Fraternity, at which house he could always be found planning a work party. During his senior year he served a junior internship at the Coatesville Hospital. No one will forget Bill for his easy-going attitude, ability to relax and his philosophy of life. His plans for the future include anesthesiology.

Internship:
HURON ROAD HOSPITAL
Cleveland, Ohio

John is Philadelphia born and came to Hahnemann following a B.S. degree from University of Pennsylvania. Little did he realize, that first day in lecture room A, that he would soon become infamous as the hypodermic nemesis of the biochemistry lab. Following a week of diligent book cracking, John could be found joining in with Phi Chi weekend affairs and relaxing at the ping pong table or looking for a fourth for bridge. Always to be remembered are John's two hamburgers and black coffee for lunch in Herm's. The future is not definite for John—the Army—followed possibly by a residency.

Internship:
ABINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Abington, Pa.

John V. Foyt

South River, N. J. proudly claims as their son Churchill C. Franklin, known to all as Church. Church is a Rutgers grad with whom we struggled through a long courtship which was finally consecrated with Mary Kathryn Dolphin to everyone's delight. A very active Phi Chi, Churchill also participated in the Newman Club and was a member of the Aesculapian Club. Future planning is towards a practice of general medicine, and knowing Church as we do are sure that he will do Hahnemann proud, as an LMD par excellence.

Internship:
MISERICORDIA HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Churchill C. Franklin

Donald J. Frazer

Detroit is his home, University of Michigan his school; wife and Phi Chi his hobby. To all Don is best known for his firm grasp of medical know how and an equally firm determination to seek the truth. Fondly dubbed "hard nose," it is his desire to know facts which will aid in his future planning as an internist. A recent addition to the family has blessed the Frazer household.

Internship:
UNITED STATES NAVAL HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

James Kethledge Fugate

Despite his famous family of four, Jim has found enough time and energy to make his mark in medical school. Jim is from Pennsylvania State University; while at school was Treasurer of the Sophomore class, joined in the Aesculapian and MacFadyen Gyn. Society and was an active member of the Phi Chi Fraternity. His many activities kept this medic from Sykersville, Pa. far too busy to be tired, and his boundless energies will be well directed in future medical ventures and in raising a football team.

Internship:
HURON ROAD HOSPITAL
Cleveland, Ohio

Paul attended Villanova University and was born at Williamsport, Pa. While at Hahnemann he was a member of the Newman Club and MacFadyen Gyn. Society. These are the statistics, but what of the man? Paul was industrious, cooperative, and always sensitive to persons as well as their disease. Together with his wife, Teresa, Paul plans a future in general practice probably in or near his home town. To us Paul (Shiga) will be remembered as the guy who slept 26 hours a day, and as the Duncan Hines of Race Street.

Internship:
WILLIAMSPORT HOSPITAL
Williamsport, Pa.

Paul C. Garell, Jr.

Gentleman Jim cuts a striking figure in his whites, as he steps to the side of a patient's bed, and in his best bedside manner extrudes a tale of metromenorrhagia or gumma of the liver. This LMD calls home Bloomfield, N. J. and attended Columbia University prior to entrance to medical school. Between classes, labs, and clinical rounds, Jim could be found relaxing at the Phi Chi house sampling the ravioli that he would smuggle from Jersey on weekends. The future is as yet undecided but Jim will most likely specialize.

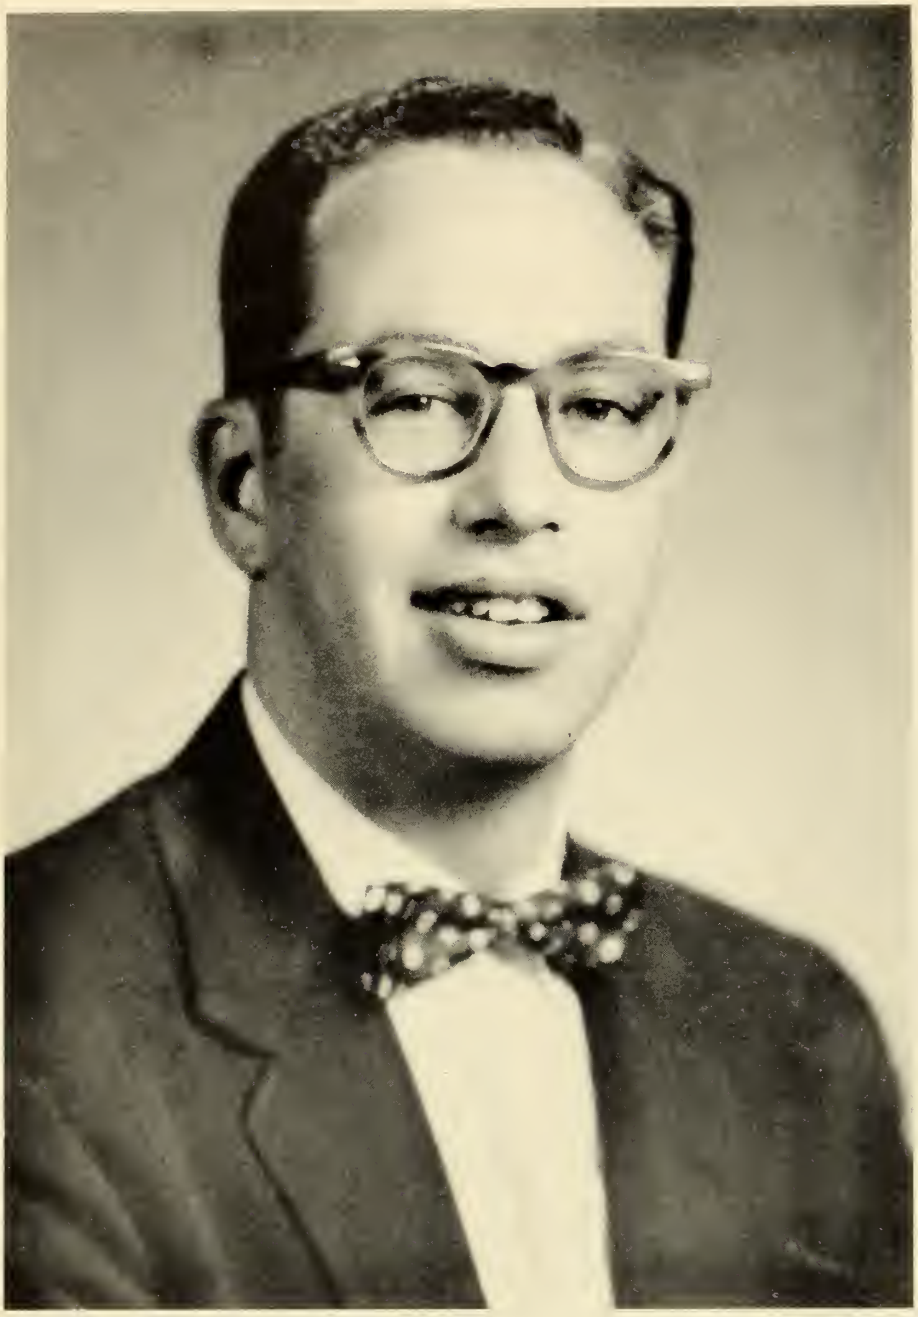
Internship:
MOUNTAINSIDE HOSPITAL
Montclair, N. J.

James Louis Garofalo

William H. Gausman, Jr.

Bill Gausman, a new Jersey Yankee who invaded the South via Duke University, has been distinguished by his astute political wisdom, financial wizardry and solid scholarship here at Hahnemann. While presiding as Mein Host at the Club 1513, Willie has focused his attention on such diverse subjects as photography, women and the prevention of total alopecia. A loyal Phi Chi, Bill also owes allegiance to the Aesculapians and the MacFadyen Gynecology Society. His future hopes include internship, surgery, parenthood and the ownership of Fort Knox.

Internship:
ORANGE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Orange, N. J.



Ronald G. Goldberg

We will remember him best by an unknown jibe which somehow grew to symbolize humor and relief of daily menial tasks. "Tay Sachs," the cherry red macula, Goldy, all these aliases let us know Ronald G. Goldberg. Ronnie was born, raised and educated in Philadelphia. He received a B.S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and while at Hahnemann was an active member in Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity. Ronnie was always ready for a party but equally prepared to meet the demands of a medical education. He is a member of Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society.

Internship:
LOS ANGELES COUNTY HOSPITAL
Los Angeles, Calif.

From Trenton, N. J. came this bright young medic with the ambition and determination to succeed as a physician. "Siggy" has a B.S. degree from Franklin and Marshall and at Hahnemann was Vice-President of Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society, Treasurer of Phi Delta Epsilon, editor of the Medic, cartoonist for SAMA paper and member of the Gynecology Society. Despite all modesty, it must be said of Sig that his medical eagerness and determination to learn have impressed his colleagues and teachers. Sig and Garell were the champs of the won-ton and almond cookie set. His future plans are for residency in surgery.

Internship:
ABINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Abington, Pa.

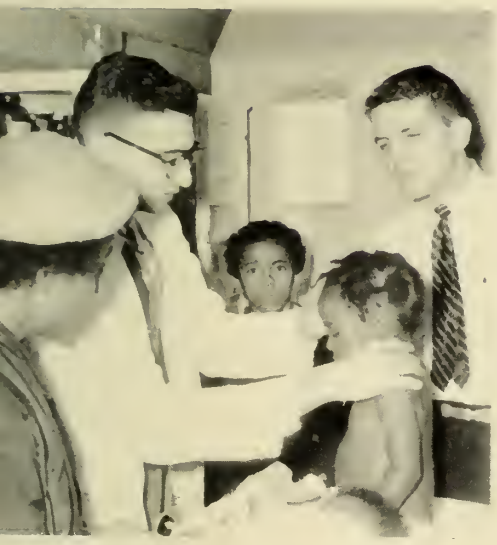
Sigmund R. Greenberg

Philadelphia born and raised, Jack has long dreamed of becoming an LMD. He was educated at Albright College and came to Hahnemann with high hopes of being an all around physician; however, forces unknown to us have guided his desires towards the psychiatric field which may be part of future planning. Always worried about "fatal anaphylactic reaction," he would argue about penicillin prophylaxsis, given any opportunity, especially with Greenberg. Jack was Secretary of Phi Delta Epsilon Fraternity, member of the Undergraduate Research Society, elected to Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society and married Reva Moss from Baltimore, Maryland.

Internship:
PHILADELPHIA GENERAL HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Jack Greenspan

John Patrick Hagan



Known to all by his official voice, which so often stated the curt necessary few words which led to a correct diagnosis, John came to medical school from Kenyon College where he received the basic background for a further medical education which John took to full advantage. All work and no play makes John a dull boy, so in wedlock John took Jeanne E. Boyd from our Biochemistry department in his senior year. John was a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and Secretary of SAMA 1952-1953. Future plans include a residency in Ob-Gyn and hunting wild beasts in northern Pennsylvania.

Internship:
LANKENAU HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dwight Noel Halpern

Dwight always despaired at those who joyfully stated, "You only get out of it that which you put in." Which usually meant—there is plenty of material but we are too busy to teach it. Yet, it must be said that he gleaned much from little, and harvested, eagerly, medical "know-how" from all our teachers. From Perth Amboy, Dwight attended Rutgers and married a lawyer friend, Rosalie Cooper. While at Hahnemann he was a member of the Phi Delta Epsilon Fraternity and elected to Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society. The future remains open, but secure.

Internship:
UNITED STATES AIR FORCE
WALTER REED HOSPITAL
Washington, D. C.

Dick's Main Line heritage has been the center of much friendly kidding, but we shall always remember him as a quiet, reserved, but genuinely enthusiastic gentleman. Staying close to home, which is Wynnewood, Pa. Dick attended the University of Pennsylvania and came to Hahnemann with his degree. At Medical School he participated in the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and took an active interest in the Phi Beta Pi Fraternity. Dick is leaving future medical planning open; for an Armed Forces internship may point to now unknown fields.

Internship:
BRYN MAWR HOSPITAL
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Richard W. Hartman, Jr.

Don was known as father of "the good group," which was unknowingly so typed by Dr. Murphy during our Junior year. Doris, nurse-wife, and family left no room for wasted time, and Don applied his summers diligently in research in physiology on various problems of respiratory chemistry and physics. Born in Collingswood, N. J. Don attended the University of Pennsylvania before coming to Hahnemann. His other activities were the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, the Research Society, and having children. Don also joined the Phi Chi Fraternity and plans a general practice after internship.

Internship:
HURON ROAD HOSPITAL
Cleveland, Ohio

Donald Harvey Johnson

Kenneth Roger Johnson

200 Midland Street, Bridgeport, Conn. is home for this New Englander who came to Hahnemann after receiving a B.A. degree from Dartmouth College. Many are the dull hours that Kenny made bearable for us by his facial plasties, and it was with some emotion, almost sadness, that we left poor bewildered Shirley and Einstein Southern Division. Kenny was a member of MacFadyen Gyn. Society, Viee Order of Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and found time for a junior internship at Pottstown Hospital. The future may be in Ob-Gyn and in general, women, especially ones with high heels.

Internship:
MEDICAL COLLEGE OF VIRGINIA
Richmond, Va.

George Philip Jones

As the group is hustled from one clinic to the other, you can always find Phil at the lead. His eagerness and intellcctual honesty have gained the respect and admiration of all his classmates. In spite of Phils long absence from formal education during World War II, he had no trouble in "cracking" the books. A proliferative graduate of Penn State, Phil is the father of four children. Phil's energies and diagnostic acumen will not go unrewarded. We all believe that honest "Capt" Jones will succeed in the future as he has done so capably in thc past.

Internship:
HARBOR GENERAL HOSPITAL
Torrance, Calif.

"Ne'er a day goes by." That's Bill's creed. Every day with Bill is chock full of "curious" experiences. In spite of his antics, both voluntary and involuntary, Bill has a captivating personality which has won him many friends. Bill, single and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, is a native Philadelphian and a member of Phi Lambda Kappa. He has maintained a fine academic record and is known best for his versatility which at times is somewhat bewildering. Plans for the future may include pediatrics.

Internship:
PHILADELPHIA GENERAL HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

William Kamerling

"What's the hurry?" This is a familiar cry when Don is nearby. A native of Reading, Pa. he is married and a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College. Don's greatest joys in life are eating and television. His eating ability is undisputable but it is hard to believe television is his hobby. Regardless of what is said of Don's ping pong ability he has managed to attain a high standing in the senior class and maintain a jovial attitude. Don can alwys be counted upon for correct diagnosis and latest cures. Maybe he has developed a new way of studying.

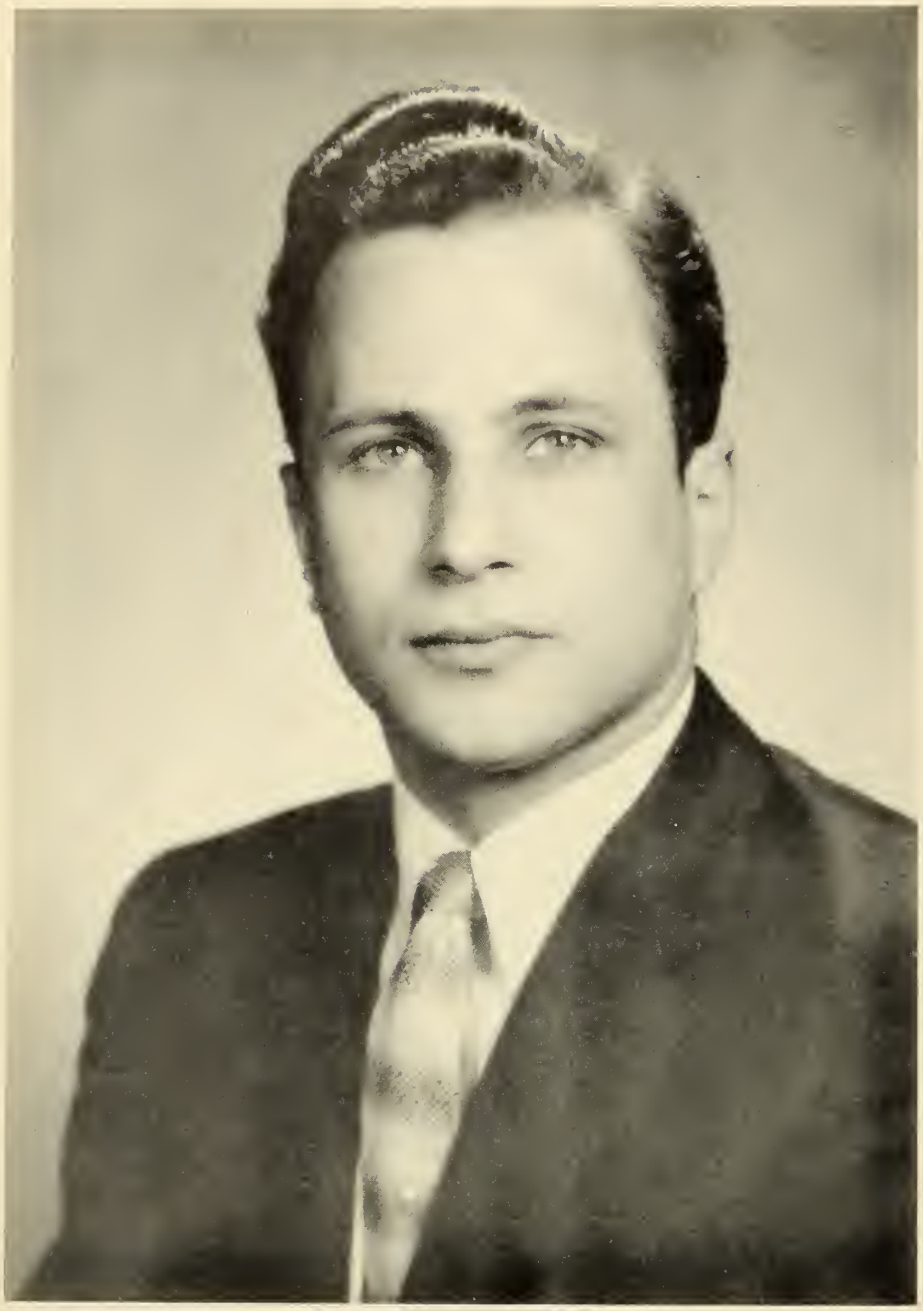
Internship:
THOMAS FITZGERALD MERCY HOSPITAL
Darby, Pa.

Donald John Kasper

Helen Myrna Kass

Helen is the proof that "doctors can be glamorous." Always a favorite with her classmates, Helen never lets us forget that beauty and brains do mix. Along with having charm and personality, she has managed to place high in the class and in some phases of our work, has excelled. A graduate of Douglass College (NJC), Helen makes her home in Philadelphia. Besides being occupied by her studies as well as the activities of the various women's medical societies, Helen found time to fill out her social calendar with Jerry Oslinker with whom she will settle and practice.

Internship:
MONTGOMERY HOSPITAL
Norristown, Pa.



Herbert Kean

Herb spent his pre-med time at the University of Pennsylvania. During the summers he worked at various jobs ranging from swimming director at adult resorts to medical research. At Hahnemann, Herb has been active in the Phi Lambda Kappa fraternity, holding the offices of Social Director, Vice-President and President. He has also been active in the Gyn. Society, the Psychiatric Forum and had a junior internship at Chestnut Hill Hospital. His spare time has been spent taking care of the television concession in the hospital. The plans for the future are uncertain, but he seems to be leaning toward Psychiatry.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Frank is one of the many men given to our class by St. Joe's. However, his medical education was delayed by the U. S. Navy and Merrill Pharmaceutical Company. While working for Merrill, Frank met an auburn haired, Chestnut Hill College beauty, who he married in June, 1955. During his four years at Hahnemann, Frank worked for Merrill, Pfizer and had a junior internship at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Camden. Frank expects to practice in Camden and raise a big family.

Internship:
OUR LADY OF LOURDES HOSPITAL
Camden, N. J.

Francis Xavier Keeley

Whenever anyone strays from the straight and narrow way, Mark is always there to lend his stabilizing character, amiability and cheerful personality. Mark, who attended Eastern Mennonite College and Wittenberg College, has spent much of his life in Asia and now calls Hagerstown, Md. his home town. His extra-curricular activities included the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and Christian Medical Society as well as being dedicated to his family, his wife, Betty Marie, and daughter, Lois Ellen. Mark was elected Treasurer of the Senior class because, as Promish put it, he was the only one we could trust with our money. Future plans are for missionary work.

Internship:
HARRISBURG HOSPITAL
Harrisburg, Pa.

Mark Alan Kniss

Rudolph Anthony Komada

They say insomnia creates more study time. If this is true, Rudy should be one of the brightest young physicians to come out of Hahnemann. At any rate, Rudy's sharp diagnostic ability cannot be underestimated, as those who know him can readily attest. A native Philadelphian, Rudy is a graduate of La Salle College. Even though an advocate of McCarthy he was always a favorite with his pals and professors due to his affable personality. In spite of his many self-created "ailments" (whatever was studied the week before), "Munch-Munch" has been active in the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, Newman Club and "Oldsmobile driving."

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Alexander D. Korba

Al hails from Seranton, Pa. and is a graduate of the University of Buffalo. I wonder if Al ever found his ophthalmoscope? In the junior year, this was the big question. Everybody knew it was missing and everybody was eoneerned, except Al. He took the loss as though nothing had happened. This was just an example of the easy-going manner which eharaeterizes him. Unperturbable Al won the respect of many while at Hahnemann. His "vital capacity" amazed all of us whether it eoneerned schoolwork or fluid dynamics. Many pleasant thoughts are in store for us when we get together with Al in the future.

Internship:
HURON ROAD HOSPITAL
Cleveland, Ohio

Bob, a gradnate of New York University, will be remembered for his work in the informal quartet. Although this was not his greatest achievement, it stands foremost in our minds. Among other things we remember the countless trips back home along the road to N. Y. A week in advance everybody knew Bob was going home to Union City. At Hahnemann he was a member of Phi Chi Fraternity, Aesculapian Club, and the MacFadyen Gyn. Society. Plans for the future are for internal medicine.

Internship:
KINGS COUNTY HOSPITAL
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Robert Leslie Kozam

Who will ever forget the way George Paff used to refer to our George as a "handsome lug." Far from being untrue, George has not let that hinder him in working toward the goal he pursued. After spending a stretch in the U. S. Army George came to Hahnemann from McKeesport, Pa. and would taunt us about the basketball fortunes of good old McKeesport High and Duquesne. In his freshman year at Hahnemann, George found what he had been looking for all these years. When Lois says "yes," that will give this story fitting climax. Post-graduation plans have not been formulated.

Internship:
YORK HOSPITAL
York, Pa.

George Kushner, Jr.

Wallace Oman Lecher, Jr.

Graduating from Upper Darby H. S., Wally decided not to become another Harry James and putting his trumpet aside disappeared for four years into the physics and chemistry labs at Amherst College. It was soon discovered, however, that some joint experimentation was going on with a pretty blonde chem. major at Mt. Holyoke. Shortly after the completion of his sophomore year at Hahnemann, Wally and Curley (the chem. major) were married, and are now living in Arden. In addition Wally has been an active member of Phi Chi, the Mac Fadyen Gyn. Society and the Aesculapian Society. He is planning a residency in Urology after an internship at Fitzgerald-Mercy Hospital.

Internship:
THOMAS FITZGERALD MERCY HOSPITAL
Darby, Pa.

David Michael Long, Jr.

Most people are naturally curious but Dave is one of those few people with the drive and perseverance to find out answers. Since coming to Hahnemann from Shamokin and Muhlenberg College, Dave has been actively interested in research. This interest resulted in his being elected Student Chairman of the Undergraduate Research Society. However, this has not detracted from his studies. Dave has managed to maintain a high scholastic average in spite of his active interest in problems of research. We all feel that this drive and initiative will further Dave's success.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Tony like the other Markarians of Hahnemann was born in Johnson City, N. Y. A graduate of Harpur College of the State University of New York, he joined Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and was active in many extra-curricular activities as well as holding a junior internship. Lab sessions were never boring as long as Tony's wit was present. When difficult questions arose Tony could be depended upon for a logical and intelligent answer. A member of AOA honorary scholastic fraternity, his plans for the future are undecided.

Internship:
THOMAS FITZGERALD MERCY HOSPITAL
Darby, Pa.

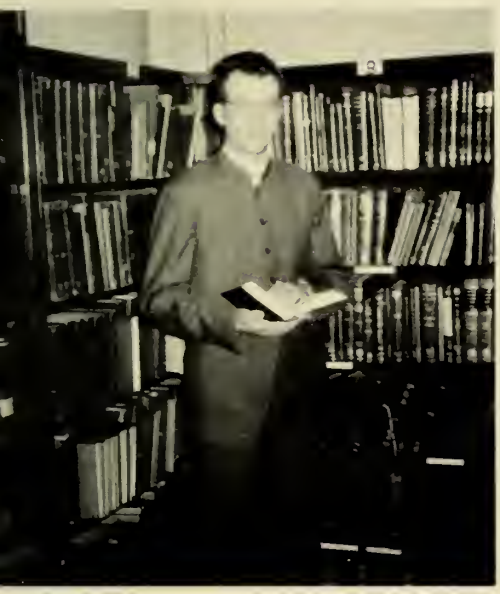
Anthony Markarian

Daryl hails from Monroe, Pa. and is a graduate of Catawba College. Who will ever forget the catch Daryl made in the softball game at our class picnic in 1954? This was just an indication of spectacular things to expect from Daryl. In our four years of contact with him, we have all learned to respect his judgment when making important decisions and diagnoses. Daryl always manages to startle us with rare diagnoses at least a few times a year. Future plans are for general practice.

Internship:
READING HOSPITAL
Reading, Pa.

Daryl Hoover Marsteller

Donald Edward Martin



A graduate of Eastern Mennonite College and a citizen of Hagerstown, Md., Don exemplifies spirit, hard work and success. He started his career as a farm boy and eventually found his way into medicine by a round-about route. At Hahnemann Don was a member of the Christian Medical Society and active in class affairs. Most of us have learned to admire Don for his diligence and effort with which he went about his school chores. Don's plans for the future are for general rural practice and a happy home life with his wife, Ellen.

Internship:
LANCASTER GENERAL HOSPITAL
Lancaster, Pa.

Edwin Harvey McKnight

Ed McKnight came to Hahnemann via Atlantic City, N. J. and Villanova College. Throughout the three years of didactic lectures Ed established himself as the leader of the back of the lecture room platoon which backed up those hardy front rowmen with silent encouragement at all times. Ed confined his social activities at Hahnemann to joining MacFadyen Gyn. Society and marrying Catherine McLaverty. Having breezed through Hahnemann, Ed feels that he will probably go into general practice somewhere around Atlantic City. We're sure the smiling Irishman will be a big success.

Internship:
ATLANTIC CITY HOSPITAL
Atlantic City, N. J.

Aaron came to Hahnemann from the University of Pennsylvania. He joined Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity in his freshman year and became the fraternity Secretary in his sophomore year. His junior year was spent in pursuit of Judy Manns, whom he married in June of 1955. Aaron had a junior internship at Stetson Hospital and more recently has done research in Neurosurgery with Axel K. Olsen, M.D. Many of the photographs in this year's Medic are the result of Aaron's work. Aaron's future will be either in Neurosurgery or in general practice in Florida.

Internship:
MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL
Miami, Florida

Aaron Medow

Stan Mitnick is a dyed-in-the-wool Philadelphian, having been born here, attended the University of Pennsylvania, and now Hahnemann. Stan joined Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity in his freshman year where he was one of their most ardent members and was the undergraduate representative and member of the Phi Lamb Board of Trustees. Stan spent one of his summers working on a fellowship grant from the Cardio-Vascular Institute. He married the former Miss Roberta Miller, and his plans include an internship, a service obligation and then a residency.

Internship:
MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL
Miami, Florida

Stanley Marvin Mitnick

Lois Jane Newman

Lois, a native of Salisbury, Pa. came to medical school from the ranks of nursing. She trained at Memorial Hospital, in Cumberland, Md., but then went to Asbury College in Kentucky and so came to Hahnemann. Lois has been very active in the Woman's Medical Society and has been the President of the group. Although a natural for the Newman Club, Lois, instead, is a member of the CMS and is one of its hardest workers. Her short term plans are to marry the once hardy bachelor, George Kushner, and her long term plan is to practice with him in Western Pennsylvania.

Internship:
YORK HOSPITAL
York, Pa.

Leonard Niesenbaum

Len is a Philadelphian who took his pre-med training at Ursinus College before coming to Hahnemann. He joined Phi Lamba Kappa Fraternity and in his senior year he was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society. Len took an active part in affairs at Hahnemann and was on the Blue and Gold Dance Committee. He had a junior internship at Frankford Hospital and made himself a happy man (he says) when he married Barbara Slawetsky. Len is pretty definite about his future which will be a general practice in a small town.

Internship:
ALBERT EINSTEIN MEDICAL CENTER, NORTHERN DIVISION
Philadelphia, Pa.

Joe, Shenandoah's claim to fame, came to Hahnemann from Penn State. Joe is a man of many and diverse talents. He is the school Bridge champion, which is quite an accomplishment, as well as one of the leading dart enthusiasts. All kidding aside, Joe is quite a scholar and has the unique faculty of having the most authoritative voice in school. Joe is a Phi Chi member and has always been active in their affairs. Joe is still undecided about his future but we are sure he will do well in any field.

Internship:
MONTGOMERY HOSPITAL
Norristown, Pa.

Joseph P. Norris

Jerry comes from South Philadelphia and attended Villanova College before coming to Hahnemann. In his freshman year, marked by many losing battles with Dr. Paff, he joined Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity. In this momentous year he also met classmate Helen Kass and was an engaged man a year later. Jerry "found" himself after leaving the preclinical subjects and enjoyed the wards thoroughly. He especially has fond memories of Obstetrics. We are sure that his sartorial elegance, his native ability and Helen will carry him far in the medical profession.

Internship:
MONTGOMERY HOSPITAL
Norristown, Pa.

Jerry Herman Oslinker

Richard Charles Owen, Jr.

Dick Owen is from New Brighton, Pa. and attended Geneva College for his pre-med training. Upon arriving at Hahnemann, Dick joined Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and is one of their more active members. Like all of us, Dick sweated through the first two years of school, but when he hit the Hospital he was often indistinguishable from the staff men, so calm and collected was he. Dick has often expressed the desire to return to a small town environment and hopes to set up a general practice there.

Internship:
HARRISBURG HOSPITAL
Harrisburg, Pa.

John Harvey Paige

John, or J. Harvey as he is called in more formal circles, is from East Pittsburgh, Pa. and attended the University of Pittsburgh. John is a member of Phi Beta Pi and the Newman Club. In his senior year John, always a good student, became a member of Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society. He has maintained his fluid balance these past four years on equal ionic equivalents of coffee and beer. As for the future John will pursue a specialty and practice it in what he calls "smokeless" Pittsburgh.

Internship:
HARRISBURG HOSPITAL
Harrisburg, Pa.

Ed, a resident of Lancaster, Pa., went to undergrad school at Franklin and Marshall College in that city. He joined Phi Chi Fraternity and demonstrated what propinquity can do to a man when he married Nora Ann Maguire, a Hahnemann nurse. Ed's father was a Hahnemann graduate and the cheery inquiry from staff men, "How's dad?" brought smiles to Ed and sneers from his classmates. Ed has done research in surgery at Hahnemann and is a junior intern at Fitzgerald-Mercy Hospital, at which place he will probably intern. He will continue his preoccupation with the aseptic blade and become a surgeon.

Internship:
THOMAS FITZGERALD MERCY HOSPITAL
Darby, Pa.

Charles Edward Pohl

Dave is a Philadelphian who attended the University of Pennsylvania before coming to Hahnemann. He joined Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity in his freshman year, a year which also saw him marry Esther. These two lovebirds could be seen at any Biochemistry lab period; he from the fire escape and she from the clinic lab, exchanging billet doux. Dave has worked at the "Y" as a swimming instructor and now as a junior intern at Montgomery County Hospital where he hopes to intern. Dave is currently making up his mind whether to go into General Practice or Psychiatry.

Internship:
MONTGOMERY HOSPITAL
Norristown, Pa.

David Sheldon Promish

Russell Basil Puschak

Russ Puschak is probably the only citizen of Coaldale, Pa. not to become a football player. Russ instead chose education and got a B.S. from Penn State University, a M.S. from Bucknell University and his M.D. from Hahnemann. In his freshman year he became a member of Phi Beta Pi and in his sophomore year joined the MacFadyen Gyn. Society. Russ is our enthusiastic student, so enthusiastic at times, that his friends feared that he might develop some ulcerative disease. However, steady prophylactic doses of Bicarb and Banthine carried Russ through. He intends to go into general practice near his home.

Internship:
ST. LUKES HOSPITAL
Bethlehem, Pa.

Paul Carmello Quattrone

Paul, a native of South Philadelphia, went to the University of Pennsylvania. When arriving at Hahnemann he joined the Phi Chi Fraternity and the Newman Club. Almost as talented musically as medically, he has entertained us many times with his guitar renditions. Paul owns a questioning mind and has stopped even the most able with some of his queries. Most of his spare time is spent in the pursuit of medical knowledge, being a junior intern at Saint Luke's Hospital. Paul is uncertain as to the future but feels that he will be in general practice.

Internship:
METHODIST EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Jean comes to Hahnemann from Colver, Pa. and Allegheny College. As an honorary member of every fraternity, she has held her own against all and any beer drinking champions. She was a member of the Undergradnate Research Society for three years, was Treasurer and Vice-President of the Hahnemann Branch of the American Medical Women's Association. Jean's size enables her to be one of the very few to inspect and repair episiotomies without bending over or sitting down. As to her future plans she says, "General practice, probably, maybe in Europe, maybe in India or China, maybe South America, or maybe even in the U.S.A."

Internship:
ST. AGNES HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Vada Jean Reese

Myron, a native Philadelphian, attended Temple University before coming to Hahnemann. He joined Phi Delta Epsilon Fraternity in his Freshman year. He was selected to Alpha Omega Alpha in his junior year and is now the President of that organization. Currently he is on the Medic staff in charge of the senior write-ups. His greatest accomplishment, to hear him tell it, was overcoming the dystocia he encountered in Obstetrics. He says he labored more than any five patients. Anyway, that's his "version." Myron is desirous of doing General Practice in suburban Philadelphia and will most likely intern there.

Internship:
ALBERT EINSTEIN MEDICAL CENTER, NORTHERN DIVISION
Philadelphia, Pa.

Myron Ellis Resnick

John Joseph Reuland

John lives in one of the nieer suburbs of Philadelphia, namely Collingdale. He attended St. Joseph's College and showed himself to be a joiner at Hahnemann, being a member of Phi Beta Pi Fraternity, the Newman Club, and the Aeseulapian Society. After graduation is over, John is going to end one of the longest engagements in modern history by marrying Dotty Millbourn. He is a junior intern at Fitzgerald-Mercy Hospital and is going to intern at that institution. Despite a "great liking" for Obstetries and Gyneeology, John plans a residency in Internal Medieine.

Internship:
THOMAS FITZGERALD MERCY HOSPITAL
Darby, Pa.

Frederick C. Richardson

Fred, following the footsteps of his father, comes to Hahnemann from Torentum, Pa. His undergraduate work was done at Allegheny College. On August 15, 1953 he married Pauline J. Dunham. At Hahnemann he was a member of the Student Institute '53-'54, Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity and the MacFadyen Society. He worked as a junior intern at West Chester Memorial Hospital. After internship, Fred plans to enter general practice.

Internship:
UNITED STATES NAVAL HOSPITAL
Chelsea, Mass.

Derle was born in Glen Lyon, Pa. He came to Hahnemann by way of Pennsylvania State University. Still a bachelor and a stalwart brother of Phi Chi his school activities read like a roster of all available campus organizations: Student Institute Treasurer, 52, '53-'54; Sophomore Class President '53-'54; Newman Club Vice-President '53-'54; member Greater Hahnemann Dance Committee; Vice-President Aesculapian Club; Chairman MacFadyen Gyn. Society; Assoc. Editor S.A.M.A. Bulletin. Plans for the future are for general practice.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Derle Robert Riordan

Irv was born in Hillside, N. J. and attended Franklin and Marshall College. He married Frada Diane Grosky on August 28, 1955. At Hahnemann he participated in the Student Institute and the SAMA Bulletin editorial board. A fraternity man, Irv holds a Phi Delta Epsilon Key. He is looking forward to a residency in internal medicine and practice in northern Jersey.

Internship:
NEWARK BETH ISRAEL HOSPITAL
Newark, N. J.

Irwin Roseff

Thomas Francis Rozanski

Tommy, the roue from Plymouth, Pa. wcnt to Bethany College in Wcst Virginia where he obtained a degree as Bachelor of Science. After two years at Hahnemann he married Joan Lallone of Teaneck, N. J. A familiar face to greet us in the library, Tom also found time to join Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and was active in the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and the Newman Club. After military service, Tom plans to enter general practice.

Internship:
HACKENSACK HOSPITAL
Hackensack, N. J.

Kemper Davis Sarrett, Jr.

Kemper is the "Southern Comfort" of the class. Though born in Huntington, W. Va., he traveled east to attend the University of Virginia where he earned a bachelor's degree and a compass. From here he set out northward for Hahnemann where he still qualifies as a bachelor, Phi Chi-type. His school activities have been many: Freshman Class Secretary '52-'53; Editor SAMA Bulletin '53-'54; Junior Class President '54-'55; President SAMA; Greater Hahnemann Dance Committee; President Aesculapian Club '55-'56. Plans for the future are undecided.

Internship:
MEDICAL COLLEGE OF VIRGINIA
Richmond, Va.

Elliott really never left home. A native of Chester, Pa. he attended Albright College in Reading. While at Hahnemann he was a member of Phi Delta Epsilon serving as Treasurer in '53-'54 and President '55-'56. His other activities included the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and the Inter-Fraternity Council. Elliott is still looking for the right girl to share his future which includes a residency in surgery. He is deeply fond of the theatre, good music and Cadillacs.

Internship:
HARRISBURG POLYCLINIC HOSPITAL
Harrisburg, Pa.

Elliott Abbey Sauertieg

Evelyn has the rare distinction of being a native New Yorker. Her pre-medical training was carried out at Los Angeles City College, the University of California from which she received a B.A. in 1950, and the University of Kansas where she earned an R.P.T. in 1951. At Hahnemann Evelyn has been active in the Alpha Epsilon Sorority serving as Secretary-Treasurer '53-'54 and President '54 and '56. She is a member of the American Medical Women's Association and is a substantial contributor to the Psychiatric Forum. She holds memberships in the American Registry of Physical Therapists, the American Physical Therapy Association and the American Association of University Women.

Internship:
NORTHEASTERN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Evelyn Jean Schendler

John Joseph Schmidt

John was born in Harrisburg, Pa. He attended Washington University in St. Louis, Pennsylvania State College, and LaSalle College where he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree. He married Norma June McKinney on December 26, 1954. John is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity and has been active in: MacFadyen Gyn. Society, Newman Club, Student Undergraduate Research Society and Lederle Undergrad Research Fellowship 1954 and 1955. Plans are to be formulated in the future.

Internship:
HARRISBURG HOSPITAL
Harrisburg, Pa.

Peter James Semple

Pete was born on the Jersey shore at Asbury Park. He took a bachelor's degree at Villanova College, Pa. in 1952; he is still a bachelor. At Hahnemann, Pete pursued medicine and nurses, faring better with the former. An Alpha Kappa Kappa man, he also found time to join the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and the Newman Club and was the lucky recipient of the position of Pfizer Student Representative in 1955. Pete plans to go into general practice after a sojourn in the Army.

Internship:
MISERICORDIA HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

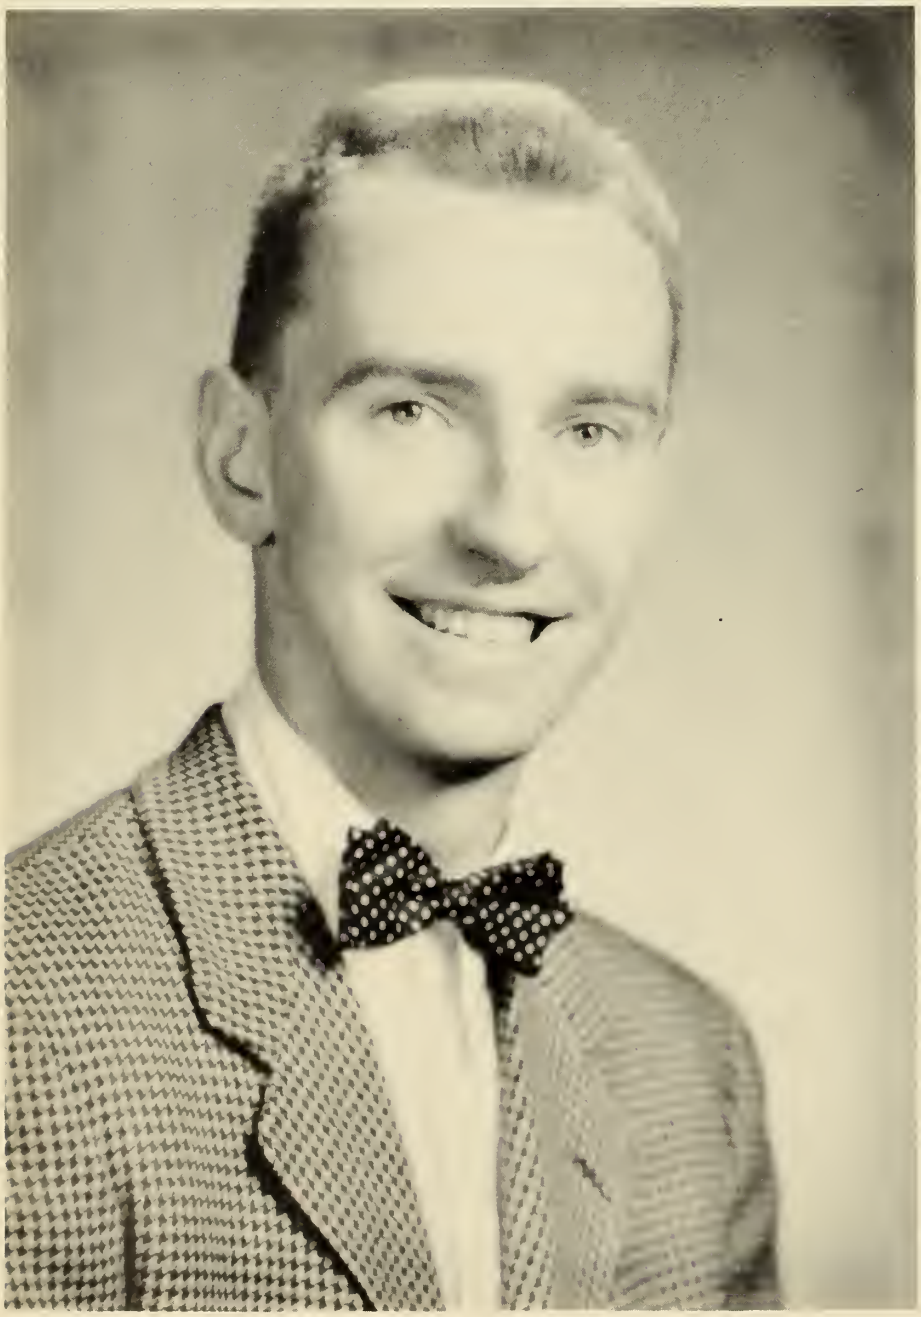
A native of New Jersey and a gradnate of the University of Pennsylvania, Paul is another of the class who will be remembered for his gentleman-like manner. Well known for his quiet ways and pleasant smile he is a member of Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity and is married. A practice in the Philadelphia area and perhaps a resideney are his future plans.

Internship:
ALBERT EINSTEIN MEDICAL CENTER, NORTHERN DIVISION
Philadelphia, Pa.

Paul Barry Sher

"Skeet" hails from Merchantville, N. J. Before coming to Hahnemann he graduated from Pennsylvania Military College. He married Jean Reimet and has two children, Debbie and Elliott 3rd. Skeet's imperturbable good humor has been an asset to the Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and the Undergraduate Research Society. After Hahnemann he plans to intern at West Jersey Hospital before taking up the family profession of Roentgenology.

Internship:
WEST JERSEY HOSPITAL
Camden, N. J.



Elliot Cogswell Shull

Ralph Adrian Skowron

Ralph claims Collingswood, N. J. his home. He received B.S. in biology at Villanova and studied law for one year at Dickinson College. He married Marie Antoinette Tatem and has two children: Ralph, Jr., age three and a half years, and Marie P., age six months. Ralph is a member of AKK, the Newman Club, MacFadyen Gyn. Society, and a junior intern at West Jersey Hospital. Spare time is spent in such activities as hunting and fishing trips and a 14,000-mile camping trip through western U. S., Canada and Alaska. Future plans include a home and a general practice in South Jersey.

Edward Plumstead South

Ed is a native Philadelphian, attended Trinity College and married Joan Kelley. He was President of AKK and spends his spare time as an engineer of his model railroad. (The result of two summers with the Reading R.R.) Ed added to his elinieal aeumen through a junior internship at Taylor Hospital in Ridley Park, Pa. His future plans are as yet uncertain but we are sure that Ed's pipe will be an integral part of all future ventures.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

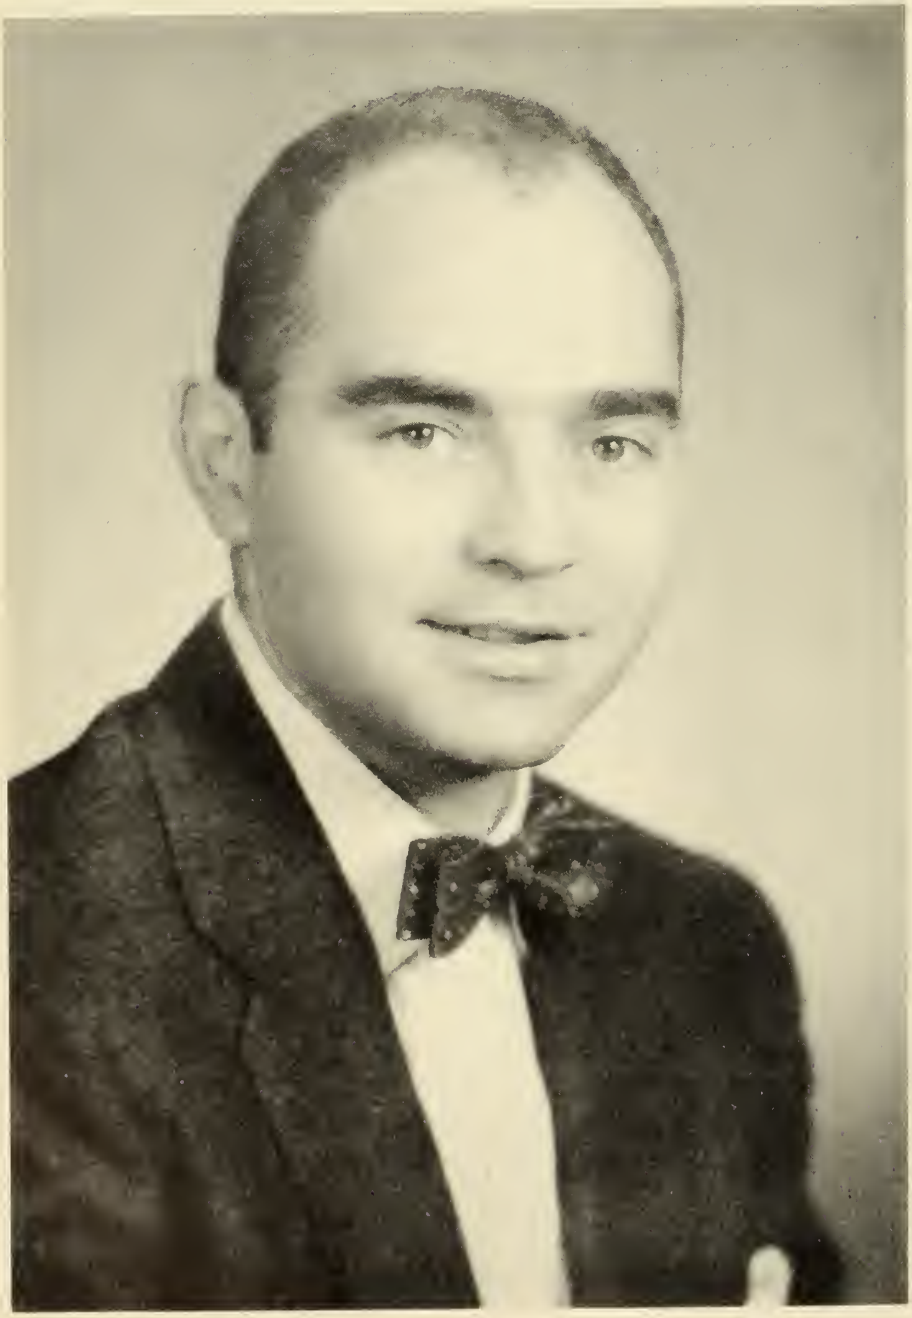
From Lancaster County and Franklin and Marshall College comes Marv Stuffer who over four years has become integrated into the ranks of the class of '56 after an initial introduction by George Paff. A more friendly and sincere fellow would be difficult to find. Although quiet in his own way he was a conscientious student. Marv joined the Christian Medical Society and during his senior year had a junior internship in Reading. He plans a rural practice.

Internship:
LANCASTER GENERAL HOSPITAL
Lancaster, Pa.

Jacob Marvin Stauffer

Sy is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania and makes his home in Philadelphia, Pa. Spare time is spent in writing popular music. His best known creation is "Guess, Guess, Guess" which has been published and recorded. A member of Phi Lambda Kappa and MacFadyen Gyn. Society, his outstanding scholastic ability was witnessed by election to AOA. Sy also was on the staff of the 1956 Medic and served a junior internship at Rolling Hills Hospital. Future plans include a residency in Obs-Gyn and continued writing of popular music.

Internship:
PHILADELPHIA GENERAL HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

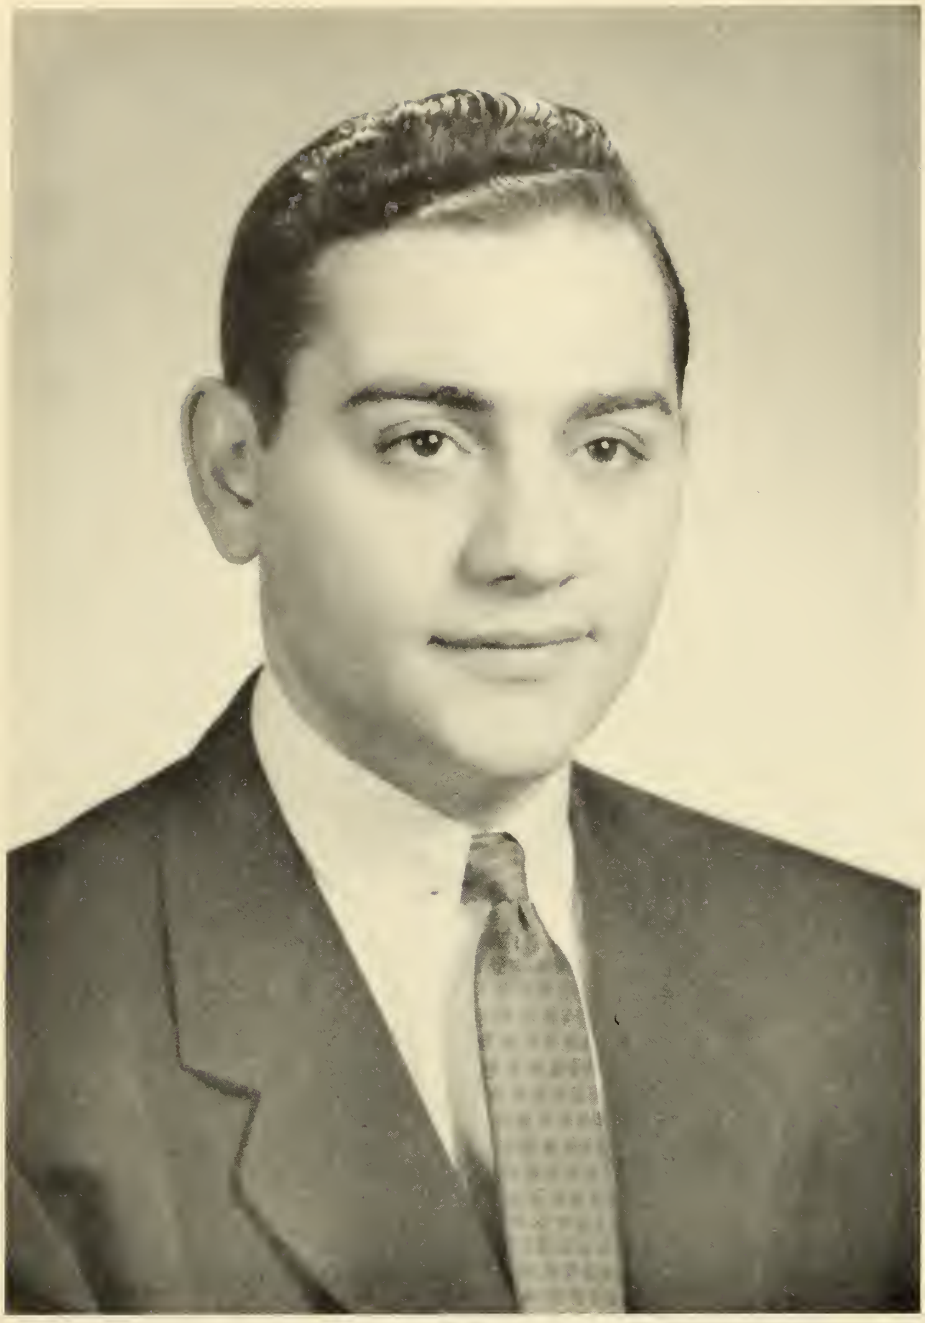


Seymour Stein

Cornelius Nelson Stover

Connie is a graduate of the University of Michigan and calls Parker, Pa. his home town. He is a member of Phi Chi Fraternity, the Aesculapian Society and served as class President during the freshman year. Between studying medicine and the art of loving, Connie found time for a junior internship at Butler Memorial Hospital and Episcopal Hospital. Plans for the future are in surgery.

Internship:
ABINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Abington, Pa.



Joseph Jerome Stuccio

Joe came to Hahnemann from Wilkes College and makes his home in Plymouth, Pa. As a member of Phi Beta Pi Joe served terms as Treasurer and Vice-Archon. He is also a member of MacFadyen Gyn. Society and Aesculapian Society. When not busy (during summer months baking the finest pizza in Wyoming Valley) Joe was a junior intern at St. Agnes Hospital and business manager of the Medic. Future plans include a tour of duty with the U. S. Navy to be followed by a career in Urology.

Internship:
ABINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Abington, Pa.

A well-liked member of the class, Jack hails from Mars (Pennsylvania, that is). He received his B.S. at Grove City College in 1952 and his MRS (Alice Robl) in 1950. This pair has two children: "Spike," age four and a half years, and Cathy, age three years. Summers were spent on jobs such as gas station attendant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and as a technician in the Central Laboratories at Campbell Soup Co. During the senior year Jack served a junior internship at Nazareth Hospital in Philadelphia. The future will find Jack in general practice where his pearly smile will be a definite asset.

Internship:
SEWICKLEY VALLEY HOSPITAL
Sewickley, Pa.

John F. Swartz, Jr.

Lee claims Ridley Park, Pa. as his home town. He is single and is an alumnus of Pennsylvania State University. Summers were spent as a printer for Container Corporation of America and as a junior intern at Taylor Hospital in Ridley Park. Future plans for "Tiger" will be directed toward a general practice in which this bespectacled, mild mannered chap will no doubt succeed.

Internship:
LANCASTER GENERAL HOSPITAL
Lancaster, Pa.

Elmer Lee Thompson

Ernest Tillman

Ernie hails from Philadelphia and attended Temple University. He is married to Dot Conrad and has one daughter, Joanne Dorothy, age two years. During the sophomore year Ernie served as Alumni Secretary to Phi Beta Pi Fraternity. Summers were spent as a brakeman for the Reading Railroad, as a driver for Yellow Cab Co. and as a junior intern at Nazareth Hospital. Ernie has lost more games of "Hearts" than most card players have played. Plans for the future are centered about a general practice in the Philadelphia area.

Internship:
NAZARETH HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Francis J. Vassalluzzo

A native Philadelphia, Frank took his pre-med studies at Villanova College. He is a member of Phi Beta Pi Fraternity and the Newman Club. Frank's outstanding scholastic achievements are demonstrated by his election to AOA after the sophomore year. Summers were spent as a milkman at Beach Haven, N. J. and as a junior intern at Nazareth Hospital in Philadelphia. Future plans include a general practice after a temporary affiliation with the armed services and a permanent affiliation with Miss Ann Lindenfelzer, R.N.

Internship:
NAZARETH HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

A midwwestern representative in the class, Howie hails from Park Ridge, Illinois. He received his B.S. at Wheaton College and worked toward a master's degree at New York University and the University of Illinois. Howie has been active as a member of the Christian Medical Society and MacFadyen Gyn. Society. His future is as yet undecided.

Internship:
AKRON GENERAL HOSPITAL
Akron, Ohio

Howard T. Wadstrom

Walt was "born and bred" in Philadelphia and attended the University of Pennsylvania. As of November 16, 1955 Walt became engaged to Jerry Steet of the Hahnemann Nursing School. (They plan to marry after graduation). His school activities have included membership in Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity and MacFadyen Gyn. Society. Extra-curricular activities have included a junior internship at Nazareth Hospital. Walt plans a future in Anesthesiology and we hope that his spontaneous wit will remain a part of him.

Internship:
MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL
Cleveland, Ohio

Walter Henry Waskow

William Frederick Weaver

Freddie the red head is a true Blue Hen from Wilmington, Del. and from the University of Delaware. To date he has been sueeessful in avoiding matrimonial ties. Aetive as a eontributing photographer to the Medie of '53, '54 and '55 and as Photographie Co-Editor in '56, Freddie was also seen at meetings of MaeFadyen Gyn. Soeiety. Further serviees inelude House Manager, Treasurer and Veep during four years of aetive membership with Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity and a junior internship at Beebe Hospital in Lewes, Del. Future plans will be direeted toward a eareer in general praetiee or in Obs-Gyn.

Internship:
MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Wilmington, Delaware

Richard H. Weber

Preceding Dick Weber's admission to Hahnemann was the confirment of an A.B. degree from Columbia College, Columbia University. Both he and his wife, Shirley, who were married during Christmas holidays of the freshman year, are residents of Allentown, Pa. Known to many are his musical interests and his waggish butions to the SPCA (Society for the Procurement of Coiffures for Alopecics). The past year was spent as a junior intern at Misericordia Hospital, in addition to participation in MacFadyen Gyn. Society and the Newman Club. It is undecided whether Dick's future beckons him to general practice or a specialty.

Internship:
MISERICORDIA HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Before ambulating in the halls of Hahnemann, Jack, a native Philadelphian, received his premedical education at St. Josephs College of Philadelphia. In addition to assimilating the particulars of medicine, Jack was an enthusiastic participant in Phi Beta Pi, Student Institute, Newman Club, MacFadyen Gyn. Society, and the Aesculapian Society. Let it be remembered, too, that when a professors query had defeated all of us, this connoisseur of words repeatedly overwhelmed both staff and student (or at least consumed the conference time) with his prolific replies. The future holds a general practice.

Internship:
JEFFERSON HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

John Joseph Welsh

Louis W. Welsh's acquaintance with Hahnemann was preceded by four years at St. Joseph's College in his native Philadelphia. Lou's medical education was profitably supplemented by his participation in Phi Beta Pi, the Blue and Gold Committee, Newman Club, MacFadyen Gyn. Society, and the Aesculapian Society. While not his singular virtue, assuredly one of his most outstanding for the past four years, was Lou's uncontrollable propensity in posing imponderable last-minute conference questions. The future reflects—a general practitioner—a black bag—a house call—a portable E.C.G.

Internship:
JEFFERSON HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Louis Ward Welsh

Charles N. Wilkins, Jr.

Although engineering first attracted Charlie, he drank deeper of the scientific spirit and received a B.S. degree from Moravian College followed with an M.S. from Cornell University prior to his entrance into medical school. Chas.'s extra-curricular activities include Student Research, Christian Medical and the MacFadyen Gyn. Societies, Senior Class Secretary, and somewhere in the past, six years as a Staff Sergeant with the U. S. Army. Among his treasure of possessions are his nurse-wife, Tice; his daughter, Wendy, and his antique skimmer, a 1906 Cadillac. He plans a future of general practice or research.

Internship:
UNITED STATES NAVAL HOSPITAL
Great Lakes, Ill.

James Korah Wilson

Jim, whose hometown is Oreland, Pa. is a unique colleague, a physician-engineer, having prior to his entrance to medical school received a mechanical engineering degree from Lehigh University. He was elected to AOA and served a junior internship at Doylestown Hospital. Much of the junior year at Hahnemann was spent at research in the isotope lab where Jim became intrigued by a specific organism only to be come permanently attached to same—Dollie Dietrich—on August 27, 1955. The future as with many, presently undecided—possibly internal medicine—probably little Wilsons; in any case, positively success.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

Sidney, a vivid, pleasing yet unindexable personality is a pioneer from Shenandoah, Pa. His undergraduate days were spent on the campus of Bucknell University. Upon entering Hahnemann he fraternized with Phi Lambda Kappa, became a member of the MacFadyen Gyn. Society and shortly thereafter, won Fran Rae Smigel as a permanent affiliation. Known to many is Sid's medical wisdom that is enhanced by his superior memory and magnetism for easily forgotten facts and figures, only to be outdone and at times undone by his mystifying handwriting and magnificent wit. A member of AOA, Sid anticipates a general practice.

Internship:
ST. LUKES HOSPITAL
Bethlehem, Pa.

Sidney William Winchell

The undergraduate days of John were spent at the University of Pittsburgh. His home town is Johnstown, Pa. Quiet, sincere, yet scholarly and energetic, John bears all the earmarks of a student who is clinically observant and medically oriented, as attested by his acceptance to AOA. The Christian Medical Society benefited by his attendance. Summers were spent as a surgical assistant at Windber Hospital, Windber, Pa., in addition to which John was paged as a junior intern at Doctors Hospital of Philadelphia for the past two school terms. A general practice is contemplated post graduation.

Internship:
HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL
Philadelphia, Pa.

John Luther Wright

Brian Anthony Wummer

Brian, whose home town is Reading, Pa. arrived at Hahnemann via Villanova University. In addition to Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity and the MacFadyen Gyn. Society, Brian's sons, Karl and Mark, have shared his free time. Before coming to Hahnemann he saw action in Korea with Uncle Sam's Army. Presently a junior intern at St. Joseph's Hospital in Reading, he plans a general practice after graduation.

Internship:
ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL
Reading, Pa.

Alpha Epsilon Iota was founded in 1890 at the University of Michigan. In 1945 a chapter was established at Hahnemann as the Alpha Beta Chapter.

The purpose of the organization is to promote good fellowship among women medical students and to maintain a high order of scholarship and professional achievement.

Within the past years several new strides have been taken, most important of which are social gatherings with members of the other AEI sororities in this area. It is hoped that this trend toward greater professional fellowship will continue among the various women medical students.

Oldest existing medical fraternity in the nation, AKK was founded in 1888 at Dartmouth Medical College. It is one of the largest organizations of its type in the world.

Beta Phi chapter was established at Hahnemann in May, 1948 and presently acquired the chapter house on 16th, below Race. The chapter has pursued a steady course to a position of leadership on campus, introducing many innovations to Hahnemann student life. An active social program, scholastic aid with a well rounded library, monthly dinner meetings and an atmosphere of comradarie are the goals that Beta Phi of AKK has constantly strove to provide its members. An active and interested alumni group has given generously of its time and resources to make our venture in fraternal living a successful and stable part of the Hahnemann scene.

Phi Beta Pi was established at the medical school of the University of Pittsburgh on March 10, 1891. In the past 65 years it has flourished into a fratrenity consisting of 36 active chapters, all of which encompass the principals of social and moral unity in a brotherhood for all.

The history of our chapter dates back to Oct. 4, 1947, when Beta Kappa succeeded its progenitor, Pi Upsilon Rho. At the present time, our chapter consists of 68 active members and a large faculty membership, with members in practically every department.

During the past year many plans, such as the renovation of the kitchen, living room and cellar, have been completed. At present, however, our main interest is the establishment of an active alumni membership among members of both Phi Beta Pi and Pi Upsilon Rho and to maintain a well rounded social calendar for our members.

One of the nation's largest nonsectarian medical fraternities, Beta Zeta Chapter proudly stands among 49 undergraduate and 31 graduate clubs of the Phi Delta Epsilon Fraternity. This organization began at Cornell University in 1904 for the purposes of education, brotherhood and social activity.

To this end we have strived by presenting a well rounded program. Our activities have included several house parties, at which we were pleased to find many Hahnemannians, scientific meetings, histology seminars for all freshman, membership in many campus groups, and our annual lectureship. This year Jerome Urban, M.D. of Memorial Hospital of New York, presented the annual lecture on the application of retrosternal node disection in mammary carcinoma.

Dr. Hill graduated from Hahnemann in 1931. Following a period of general practice he returned for further training in pathology and medicine. In 1954 he became Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, and in that capacity we have grown to know him as "Mert". Tirelessly, he devotes his efforts in uniting the Hahnemann family with past, present and future physicians. His office is always open; a place we feel free to air our gripes, hopes and aspirations for the future of Hahnemann. The Phi Chi's are proud to claim him as an active brother.

Phi Chi fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. In 1948, Phi Alpha Gamma was incorporated into Phi Chi and since that time it has grown into the largest of the five fraternities at Hahnemann.

The fraternity house located at 1624 Summer Street, is the site of many functions of both academic and social nature. Here each brother strives to keep honor and spirit high, and to maintain a desirable scholastic level for the gratification of himself and the honor of Phi Chi.

We are grateful to our Alumni Group guided by Robert Goulding, Donald Tschan, E. M. Hill, A. James Fessler, and Peter Warter. These men are forever present with endless advice, words of wisdom and willing support.

Phi Chi has active chapters in most of the colleges and universities in the country and has grown to become the largest National Professional Fraternity.

WYETH RESEARCH ...

In its new quarters at Radnor, Pennsylvania, the Wyeth Institute for Medical Research offers the most advanced facilities for pharmaceutical investigation. It is here that Wyeth's men of science endlessly explore physics and chemistry to find new tools for men of medicine. By these labors, the Wyeth Institute gives life to the pharmaceutical industry's concept of service. This is why the Wyeth Shield is a symbol of pharmaceutical progress throughout the world.

"For the Conservation of Life" . . .

The length and thoroughness of the physician's training enables him to act swiftly and effectively in an emergency. Medical science does not encourage haste . . . either in diagnosis or in training.

That's why there are no short cuts in the physician's period of preparation. Of us all, he has by far the smallest margin of error.
